HELEN BOYLE, KIDNAPPER, IS FOUND GUILTY

MERCER, Pa., May 8.—Mrs. Helen Boyle, charged with kidnapping Willie Whitla of Sharon, and with aiding and abetting the kidnapping, was found guilty of the second count to-day by the jury, which was out only a short time.

"Both Jimmy and myself have tried to tell the whole story in connection with the case," said Mrs. Boyle before Court opened. "We have not been permitted to do so. It is injustice. As for myself I will commit suicide before I go to the penitentiary."

Attorney Miller, in his plea for Mrs. Boyle, said:

"The Commonwealth has charged Mrs. Boyle with kidnapping, but they have presented no evidence in support of the charge. They never had any proof that she was mixed in the kidnapping of Billy Whitla. It was for that reason that the second charge of aiding and abetting was added.

"Now, gentlemen of the jury, I have been associated in this court in various capacities since 1872, and never before did I see so much influence and so much wealth used to corrupt and prejudice your minds as in this case.

"The county papers made her appear as a devil incarnate. The State might as well have left the question of her guilt to the mob which tried to attack Mrs. Boyle Thursday afternoon. This court has no jurisdiction against her."

SHOOTS FATHER-IN-LAW FIVE TIMES

WEST POINT, Ga., May 8.—Henry Beck shot and instantly killed his father-in-law, Dr. Taylor, to-day. Beck fired five times, and each shot took effect in Taylor's face and head. The shooting occurred in a livery stable, and two negroes, the only witnesses, fled at the first shot.

ACCUSED WHITLA BLACKMAILER HELD

United States Commissioner Hayes to-day held Ernest H. Martin in $100 bail for the Federal Grand Jury on a charge of sending a blackmailing letter through the mails to James P. Whitla of Sharon, Pa., demanding $10,000 for the protection of the Black Hand Society. John W. Wright, who was arrested at the same time with Martin as an alleged confederate, in Station A, Washington street, is held as a witness.

CHAUFFEUR HELD IN $3,000 FOR DEATH

Michael Marano, twenty-four, chauffeur for Edward F. Skahan, the wealthy market gardener of Belmont, was to-day arraigned in the Cambridge District Court before Judge Charles F. Almy, on the charge of manslaughter. He is charged with running down Mrs. Leslie Tyler at Massachusetts avenue and Sacramento street, Cambridge, last night. He pleaded not guilty. Judge Almy continued the case until May 19 and held him in $3,000, which Mr. Skahan furnished.

BRISTOW ATTACKS LEAD SCHEDULE

WASHINGTON, May 8.—The Senate resumed consideration of the tariff bill to-day. Senator Bristow of Kansas attacked the lead schedule, contending that the Senate Finance Committee had given no heed to the hearing on the schedule which was had by the Senate Ways and Means Committee. Senator Aldrich replied that the Senate was here to do justice and not to consider what the Ways and Means Committee had done.

CHICAGO PLANS SHOW.

CHICAGO, May 8.—The Chicago Association of Commerce announces that a large industrial exposition will be held in Chicago in next August. It is said that the affair will be the biggest of the kind ever attempted here.

RENAUD FAST IN AMATEUR MARATHONRUN

BRONX OVAL, New York, May 8.—The big amateur Marathon race, under the auspices of the Northwestern A. C., was run here to-day. After the field of 125 had circled the track for a distance of 385 yards they took to the highways of the Bronx, where they were schedule to travel twenty-four miles, finishing the last two miles on the six-lap track here. The spacious oval was filled to its utmost when the contestants were sent on their way.

Eddie White, the Brooklyn lad who won the Brooklyn-Coney Island run last February, was the first of the bunch out. He was closely followed by Renaud, the Boston Marathon winner. It was apparent at this stage that the latter was going to have his hands full with the Brooklyn boy.

SUGAR TRUST LAYS FRAUD TO THE DEAD

NEW YORK, May 8.—Surprise and consternation threw into confusion the headquarters of the sugar trust when the news came that the Federal Grand Jury had just returned indictments against seven of its employes alleged to be implicated in frauds against the government.

Coincident with this news, the seven men heard the amazing information that they were no longer employes of the trust. In fact some of them learned of their summary dismissal from the reporters. In a statement issued only a short time after the Grand Jury had reported the indictments the trust referred to them as "former employes."

By another coincidence, Henry F. Cochrane appeared as counsel for the men, employed, it is said, by Oliver Spitzer, for thirty years an employe of the sugar company and dock superintendent during the time that the frauds were perpetrated in the weighing of sugar by false scales. Bail was promptly furnished for the men. Hastily a defence was framed by the trust officials for the trust. It lacked originality. The heads of the trust will plead that Henry O. Havemeyer, for years the president of the concern, had full direction of the affairs in which the men under indictment were concerned. Mr. Havemeyer, who is dead, just as when The blame, therefore, will be placed on the crime and corruption of public officials by the Metropolitan Street Railways Company were exposed three years after the death of William C. Whitney the men concerned said that he alone had directed the deals and bribery and alone was to be blamed.

BIG WELCOME FOR CUMMINGS ABROAD

DUBLIN, May 8.—The American envoys of the Aancient Order of Hibernians, National President Cummings of Boston and the Rev. Father O'Donnell, chaplain of the Order in the State of Massachusetts, were splendidly received at Derry. There was a great procession followed by a huge banquet.

Father O'Donnell, in a speech, declared that the mission of the order was the unification of the greatest race of people in the world. He declared that he and his American fellows want to make Ireland a free and independent nation in the sight of God and man.

Mr. Cummings said that the order did not intend to ally itself with any political organization and that if the Board of the Erin A. O. H. would become obedient to the church and sever its political associations it would be welcomed by him.

MARATHON STARS IN BIG RACE

NEW YORK, May 8.—The lure of the Marathon drew many race fans towards the Polo Grounds early to-day where they waited for the gates to open which should admit them to the course where the great $10,000 international derby Marathon shall decide the supremacy of long distance running the world over.

The final details for the great race were completed early to-day, at the baseball park, and from the camp of each runner came bulletins of a sanguine character. Each is confident of winning the race. The favorites before the race were Marsh and St. Yves, although some of the wise ones advised all their friends to get on Svanberg, and others extended strongly for Carvalhal, the Cuban.

The entrants and the countries they represent are the following:

John Svanberg	Sweden
Dorando Pietri	Italy
Fred Simpson	Indian
Pat White	Ireland
Henry St. Yves, Louis Orphee and Edouard Cibet	France
Tom Morrisey, Ted Crook	U. S.
Felix Carvalhal	Cuba
Matt Maloney	Irish-American
John D. Marsh	Canada
Frederick Appleby	England

The $10,000 is split up into the following purses:

First, $5,000; second, $2,000; third, $1,000; fourth, $800; fifth $500; sixth, $300; seventh, $200. The last six runners get nothing.

The Polo Grounds just before the starting hour was a riot of colors and excitement. On account of the superb weather, sunshiny, with just enough bite to the air to lend new energy, a great many gathered about the gates hours before the time of opening.

There were cries for Dorando from the Italians and answering roars from the Irish for Maloney and White. The French contingent, mostly waiters, waved their handkerchiefs and clapped their breasts, while they called upon St. Yves to uphold the honor of France.

The American League baseball game is started two hours earlier in order to give the fans a chance to see the race.

Big Tim Sullivan, who seems to have a sort of corner on the job of starting Marathon races, was on hand and ready to perform his duty, which consisted in firing the pistol which should set the runners to their task.

Early in the day the crowd was estimated from 30,000 to 35,000, but every hour added to the estimate until finally it settled at from 40,000 to 45,000.

EMPLOYER'S APPEAL MAY SET BOY FREE

On the appeal of his employer to United States Commissioner William Hayes, George W. Richardson, seventeen years old, of No. 30 Vaughn street, Dorchester who was charged with stealing to buy a new Easter suit so that he could appear well in the eyes of his best girl, may be given another chance. The boy worked for the John F. Emery ship brokerage office at No. 114 State street. He is charged with stealing a money order belonging to Captain E. J. Wooster and trying to cash it after forging Captain Wooster's name. President Frank Randall of the brokerage company asked that the lad be put on probation. This was consented to until next Tuesday.

INDICT MAN WHO SLASHED KILLIAN

Joseph Di Sefano, the Italian barber who slashed Lawrence J. Killian, the well-known Dewey square restaurateur, with a knife because of a fancied grievance over the occupancy of a barber shop in Mr. Killian's premises, was to-day indicted for assault with intent to murder. The Grand Jury reported to Judge Schofield.

Toppan Lithgow and Oscar Sears, who, it is alleged, entered the suite of Publisher Haskell of the Boston Herald at Hotel Somerset and were driven away with a pistol, were indicted for breaking and entering.

HELD FOR $2,000 THEFT OF STAMPS

Michael Sullivan was held in $1,200 by Judge Murray in Municipal Court to-day, charged with breaking into the home of Miss Anna Cayvan, No. 109 East Canton street, on the night of April 14, and stealing $2,000 worth of trading stamps and $10 in cash.

THE WEATHER.

MAD JUROR IN ASYLUM

Willis A. White, of Maynard, the Jordan juror, who has been declared insane. Photo by Chickering.

NEW TRIAL NOW FOR JORDAN

Fighting all the way, Willis A. White of Maynard, the Jordan juror, who was adjudged insane in Concord District Court to-day, was taken handcuffed and shackled in an automobile over the road from Concord to the Bloomingdale Insane Hospital in Worcester this noon and placed in a padded cell.

After raving violently in Concord square this morning White became calmer, suffered himself to be examined, was committed by Judge Keyes and started apparently calm to Worcester. In the automobile with him were Patrolmen Connors and O'Donnell, Selectman Arthur Walker of Maynard and Thomas Ford, owner of the auto.

Soon after leaving Concord square White had a recurrence of violent mania. He tried to jump out of the car. The other men overpowered him and finally put handcuffs on his wrists and shackles on his ankles. Thus he was brought to the door of the big Bloomingdale Insane Hospital, near Lake Quinsigamond, Worcester.

There he was formerly accepted as a patient by Dr. Hosea N. Quinby, superintendent of the institution. At the Jordan trial Dr. Quinby, as an alienist for the prosecution, testified that the prisoner had prisoner had neither epilepsy nor paresis. In case of violent patients they are placed in a padded cell till their maniacal frenzy abates. The usual proceedings of commitment were followed in White's case.

In front of the Concord District Courthouse and during the court hearing as to his sanity White became a maniac and fought the officers and physicians, rolled in the dirt and raved. He stood up on the seat of an automobile and shrieked appeals to God:

"Oh, God, give me strength," he pleaded.

"Jordan is as sane as I am," he cries a little later.

He kissed and hugged his wife who tried vainly to calm him. Then he shouted, "I have forged checks." He was carried bodily into the court room.

Made Mad by Strain of Trial.

White was driven insane by the long-drawn horror of the Jordan trial. He had suffered from neurasthenia before, but he acted in a rational manner during the trial. He qualified as a juror without trouble.

But the continuous sessions, the reiterated discussion of insanity and the final strain of the nine-teen-hour jury debate in a verdict snapped the frayed thread of his reason.

Judge John S. Keyes of Concord to-day ordered him committed to Worcester Insane Hospital.

After a conference held by Jordan's lawyers in Boston to-day, one of them declared that they all believed that as a result of the insanity of Juror White they would be able to have the verdict set aside. General Bartlett went to Concord immediately to prepare affidavits with this in view.

Other lawyers discussed the case with great interest to-day and gave it as their opinion that Jordan would get a new trial.

White was closely guarded at his home during the night, at the request of Town Physician Frank U. Rich of Maynard, by Patrolmen Connors and O'Donnell of the Maynard police.

None of the family slept. Mrs. White and Alton, her son, stayed downstairs. The officers were kept busy guarding White, who showed more and more signs of mental breakdown. He trumped from one room to another. Every now and then he would cry:

"Take me to Cambridge. I will tell the judge the whole story."

Terrible Night for Wife.

Occasionally the officers persuaded the crazed man to lie down on his bed, but soon he would spring up and begin raving. It was a terrible night for the wife and son, waiting downstairs and realizing that the husband and father was insane.

At 8 o'clock this morning Dr. Rich came in an automobile, with a second automobile in charge of a chauffeur. White came out front.

"Come over to Concord Court with me, Mr. White," said Dr. Rich.

"No, I won't!" yelled White. "I'll go to Cambridge, but not to Concord."

White is a powerful man and the physician resorted to strategy.

"Ask him to take a ride with you," he said to Mrs. White.

Mrs. White, bravely keeping back her tears, climbed into an auto.

"Come to ride with me, Father," she said to White.

All through the distressing scenes which followed, Mrs. White called her husband "Father," after the manner of mothers who have caught the familiar word from their children.

Fights Off Officers.

White calmed down, got into the auto alongside of his wife promptly and suffered Dr. Ritch, his son, Alton White, and

CAR KILLS BOY; WOMEN FAINT

An unidentified boy between twelve and fifteen years of age was killed by a Jamaica Plain car in the Park street subway station this afternoon.

The lad wore a blue waist, blue knee pants, tan shoes and stockings. In his pockets were a few pennies, some keys and cards bearing names.

The lad, according to eyewitnesses, tried to board an open car before it stopped. He tried to get on a rear seat, missed and fell, and a closed car immediately following ran over him.

The lad's scream of terror was answered by dozens of others from the women shoppers and several fainted. There was intense excitement. The car had to be jacked up. The lad was hurried to the Relief Station, but died as he was carried in.

Conductor Edward S. Fisher of the car which ran over the boy is being detained at Station No. 4 pending an investigation. Fisher resides at No. 9 Spring Park avenue, Jamaica Plain. Motorman Matthew L. Edwards was running the car. He was not detained.

HAYES' TIME BEATEN IN LONDON CONTEST

LONDON, May 8.—The amateur Marathon from Windsor to London, twenty-six miles, was won this afternoon by H. F. Barret, who competed in the Olympic Marathon won by J. J. Hayes of New York. Barrett's time, two hours forty-two minutes and thirty-one seconds, beats Hayes' Olympic time by twelve minutes and forty-seven seconds. Sixty-eight men ran.

FANS RUSH TO SEE FOURTH GAME OF DOVES AND GIANTS

Fans flocked to the Columbus avenue grounds this afternoon for the fourth game in the series with the Giants. It was a trifle cool but the bright sunshine cheered the enthusiasts. The Doves had a chance to slip into second place of the National League pennant race to-day and they went after it with the backing of a crowd of supporters.

The Red Sox tackled the Yankees in New York at the same time, hoping to get even for yesterday's defeat.

Old Sol was kindly to-day and nearly everywhere the weather favored fine baseball.

NEW YORK, May 8.—The Red Sox wound up their series with the Yankees on the hilltop grounds this afternoon and will hilltop grounds this afternoon and jump to Cleveland, where they open a series of four games with the Naps.

The Yankees have done well to gather the two games they have won, as the Red Sox have one of the fastest teams in the league, which was shown in the exhibitions they have given here in the last few days, and are a team that will bear watching as the season progresses. In the minds of many who have seen them in action they will be well up in the van when the home stretch is reached.

For speed they cannot be topped by any team in the league, and have that valuable asset, team work, down to a nicety. Their only fault that stands out prominently is the fact that there are no veterans in their pitching department, one that can jump into the breach and pull a game out of the fire.

Lake was confident of returning a winner in the wind-up to-day, as he wants this game badly and will present his most formidable array of talent to the fans this afternoon. Stallings is just as confident and says to-day's game will also go to the New York team.

MISS ROTCH WINS MATCH

Miss Edith Rotch treated the spectators to some fine tennis at the Country Club, Brookline, to-day, in her match with Miss Marion Fenno, in the Ladies' Open Tournament. In the first set Miss Rotch won 6-3, after duce had been called four time. In the second set Miss Fenno had 5-4, and the points stood 40 to 15. She made a double foult, and Miss Rotch won the set, 7-5.

Miss Eleanora Sears won from Mrs. Bazley, 6-2, 3-6, 6-3.

In the preliminaries of the women's doubles Mrs. Greenough and Miss Ball won fgrom Miss Elizabeth Wells and Miss Josephine Griffith, 3-6,7-5, 8-6. Miss Homans and Mrs. Bazley from Miss Margaret Thomas and Miss Charlotte Allen, 6-0, 6-3.

The winner of the match this afternoon between Miss Eleanora and Miss Evelyn Sears will play Miss Rotch next week. The winners of the mixed doubles between Miss Fenno and H. R. Foster against Miss Evelyn Sears and N. W. Niles will play Miss Edith Rotch and Alfred Dabney, Jr., in the semi-finals Monday.

WOMAN, 80, SLAIN FOR HER MONEY?

NORTH ATTLEBORO, May 8.—Being unable, after two months' search, to find money her mother was known to have possessed, Miss Sarah Hurley is considering the question of asking an investigation into her mother's death. The mother, Mrs. Bridget Hurley, was found unconscious from what was said to be a stroke of apoplexy. She died soon afterward. Now it is suggested that she might have been the victim of foul play and robbery. Mrs. Hurley was eighty years old, and had $2,000.

SOUTH END GROUNDS, May 8.—All roads led to the National League Park this afternoon and the bugs filed through the gates in a great stream to the fourth game of the Giants-Doves series. The usual Saturday afternoon crowd was on hand and the cracking contests played by those teams in the last two days brought out the backward rooters.

Bowerman's Doves appeared full of ginger and ready for a gruelling struggle. The big manager put them through a fast morning practice and the game was started with a snap and vim. The Doves went after those haughty warriors from New York with a determination to get even for the double defeat which the Giants handed out in the first two games of the series.

Fred Tenney and his tribe scampered around on the diamond and they, too, had a grievance, for the scrappy first baseman still shows marks from the walpping he received at the hands of the Doves yesterday.

Leon Ames was told to prepare himself for the game this afternoon and he warmed up with lots of speed. Ames is counted on by Manager Tenney as being a sure winner from the Doves, for his brand of curves, he thinks, are too fine for the locals when he gets them over the plate.

HARVARD IS NOW FAVORITE

STADIUM, Soldiers' Field, May 8.—Harvard track men expected to put over another win on the Dartmouth athletes this afternoon in the 4 th annual dual games as the Hanoverians were handicapped by the loss of some star material and the short time to prepare also counted against the New Hampshire boys.

Last year's score was 69 to 49 in favor of the Crimson and the Harvard coaches expected even a better showing on this occasion as the men were fit and the recent class contests proved that Harvard is sure to make a big noise on the cinder path this season.

With Sherman, the star Dartmouth sprinter, not in his top form of last year, when he won three firsts for the Green, and Foster, the sensational flyer going well, Harvard looked stronger than ever in the dashes.

QUAKE DISTRICT IS SHAKEN AGAIN

ROME, May 8.—Messina and Reggio were visited by severe earthquake shocks last night and early to-day which did great damage. The inhabitants have fled into the open and the districts are in a state of panic.

The heaviest shocks were at Messina where buildings were shaken down. At Reggio the damage was smaller, although the people were no less panic-stricken.

At the camps established in the plains near the city, the temporary structures have been overturned by the new shocks.

MILES RECAPTURES COURT TENNIS HONORS

LONDON, May 8.—Eustace H. Miles, the former British court tennis champion recaptured that honor at the Queen's Club day by defeating N. S. Lytton three sets to none. The score were 6-3, 6-1 and 6-5.

Jay Gould, the American holder of the championship, did not defend the title.

BRING 797 FROM SHIP TO MONTREAL

MONTREAL, May 8.—The Canadian Pacific has made arrangements to bring the 797 passengers on the steamship Lake Champlain, which put into St. John's, N. F., with her bows smashed in after collision with an iceberg, to Sydney, C. B., and thence by train to Montreal.

STAGE CAREER OPEN TO THE BOSTON GIRL WITH TINIEST FOOT

Photograph of Miss Maud Allan's exquisite foot, whose twinklings in poetic dances have won her great fame.

The Cinderella-foot contest inaugurated by the BOSTON AMERICAN to show that Boston girls have small feet, as well as the girls of other cities, has not only aroused great interest but has also brought the particular attention of the management of "A Stubborn Cinderella," now playing at the Colonial Theatre.

As a result of this, Manager Arthur Houghton of that dramatic company, on behalf of Mort. H. Singer, proprietor of the production, offers another timely and desirable prize in addition to the three already offered by the BOSTON AMERICAN. This prize is nothing less than a position in "A Stubborn Cinderella" company to some one of the girls who shall qualify in this unique contest.

The idea of the contest arose from the fact that, when an advertisement was published in New York recently for girls with small feet to join this company, no Boston girls came forth. A mean insinuation was made that no Boston girl had small feet.

The absurdity of this was "2 mutch" as Little Bobby would express it. So the BOSTON AMERICAN offered three prizes for the three girls having the smallest and prettiest feet, the public to have final decision by voting on whatever thirty contestants were selected by a board of competent judges as qualifying candidates.

The prizes offered by the BOSTON AMERICAN consist of:

First—A golden slipper inlaid with jewels.

Second—A scrolled slipper of solid silver.

Third—$25 in cash.

The first announcement of this contest, printed in yesterday's AMERICAN, attracted the immediate notice of Manager Houghton of "A Stubborn Cinderella."

"This will bring out the small-footed girls in Boston," reflected Mr. Houghton, "and I need one in the company. So he sat down and wrote the following letter to the BOSTON AMERICAN:

Editor BOSTON AMERICAN:

Dear Sir—I notice in to-day's AMERICAN that you have started a "Cinderella" contest, because out of nine applicants for chorus positions in "A Stubborn Cinderella" in New York, there were no Boston women, the supposition being that Boston women have big feet.

We were sure at the time that this was an error, and we are glad that you have started to prove it. In order to stimulate interest and prove that Mr. Singer was not prejudiced against Boston women when he engaged the chorus for "A Stubborn Cinderella," I will hereby offer, in behalf of Mr. Singer, to engage for the chorus of "A Stubborn Cinderella" any Boston girl you may select and who has qualified for the "Cinderella" slipper in your contest. Of course it is understood that the young woman must possess a pretty face and some intelligence in addition to her small feet. Very truly yours,

ARTHUR HOUGHTON,
Manager, "A Stubborn Cinderella" Company.

The BOSTON AMERICAN accepts with pleasure this offer on the part of Manager Houghton.

On account of this new arrangement the time limit is extended a week. The details of the contest are as follows:

All entrants to the contest must be sixteen years of age or over and not less than five feet tall.

From now till May 20 the BOSTON AMERICAN will receive entries for the contest. Each entrant must fill out the blank printed herewith, giving the measurements of her foot.

With this entry blank let her send a photograph of her foot and an outline drawing of it. In case she has no photograph of her foot the BOSTON AMERICAN will have her foot photographed free of charge at a first-class Boston studio.

Each entrant must send her name and address with the photograph and drawing. Let her mark them plainly. But no names will be published until the close of the contest, when the names of the winners will be published.

When the entry list closes on May 20 a board of judges will select the thirty of the smallest and prettiest from the photographs of feet submitted. The judges will name the three prize winners from this thirty also.

The first prize winner will get the golden slipper, the second the silver slipper and the third the $25 in cash.

Then Manager Houghton will be asked to make his choice from the same thirty, as selected by the judges, for the winner of the position in his dramatic company.

That is the situation. The judges choose thirty girls to qualify and name three prize winners for the two slippers and the money. Manager Houghton selects his choice from among the same thirty.

GOOD NEWS FOR THE DEAF

NEW YORK, May 7.—A celebrated New York Aurist has been selected to demonstrate to deaf people that deafness is a disease and can be cured rapidly and easily in your own home.

He proposes to prove this fact by sending to any person having trouble with their ears a trial treatment of this new method absolutely free. BOSTON MAN SUES BIG TRUST COMPANY

Alleging that false representations were made to him in connection with the sale of certain stocks and bonds of the Cuba Hardwood Company, Frederick L. Ames has filed a $150,000 suit in the Superior Civil Court, directed against the Knickerbocker Trust Company of New York.

The plaintiff claims he bought 100 bonds and 1,000 shares of stock of the Cuba Hardwood Company for $70,000, upon the representation that the company had large quantities of mahogany and cedar, that the Cuba and Eastern railroad ran within a few miles of the grounds to be cleared, and that the company had earned $170,000 in the nine months previous to the sale of the bonds.

He asserts that the claims as to the company's holdings were false.

SPECIAL OFFER OF GOLD PRIZES IN WORLD TOUR CONTEST ENDS TO-NIGHT

SOME of you, boys and girls of New England, are going to deeply regret the fact that you have not entered the contest for the Free Vacation Tours offered by the BOSTON AMERICAN, when the nominations close at midnight to-night.

Some of you are going to be very sorry when you hear later that your next door neighbors, schoolmates or friends are about to depart for foreign shores, to pass their vacation days. Then it will be too late.

NOW IS THE TIME TO ENTER. The nominations close at midnight to-night. Get busy! Qualify now. Your chance is just as good as the next fellow's. There is no limit to the possibilities.

Remember, boys and girls, the week's Gold Prize offer also closes to-night. The Around the World Department of the BOSTON AMERICAN will remain open until midnight, so as to allow you to get your votes in. All week there has been a steady stream of contestants piling in their subscriptions and the large force of clerks has been kept constantly busy crediting the vote values.

Public Is Interested.

Subscriptions are what count. The boys and girls now realize more than ever that they are well worth the effort taken in securing them. They pile up the totals by the hundreds and thousands.

As time goes on, the public realize more thoroughly the magnificence of the offer, and is more ready and eager to help the boys and girls win the grand opportunities placed within their reach.

Each new subscription taken makes the next one just so much easier.

Now, boys and girls, the standing of the contestants will be published very shortly. You want your name among the leaders, don't you? First impressions, you know, are what count. If you are away up high in the list it will mean that the other boys and girls will have to hustle to keep up with you and you will have to hustle to keep ahead of them.

The subscription plan of vote getting makes it possible for the boy or girl who is away down in the list to-day to jump to first place to-morrow, so that everybody has the chance of leading, and it is the good lively subscription getters who will lead oftenest.

The boys and girls who daily throng the Around the World Department show increasing signs of activity as the time goes on. They register their subscriptions, ask questions of the Editor, and briskly hurry off, to continue the canvass. Briskness and bustle is the keynote and all are especially working now, so as to pile up a big total before the publication of the standing. Hurry up, Boys and Girls.

Edward F. O'Leary, No. 164 F street, South Boston, looms up to-day as the candidate of the Collins Club. A letter signed by President Thomas J. Collins, of the club, who is also secretary of the Democratic State Committee, states that O'Leary will have the entire support of the club in an effort to make him one of the winners.

Leah Cohen, No. 357 Harrison avenue, a busy little worker, took a prominent part in a play entitled "Anita's Trial," given at the Lincoln Settlement House, No. 80 Emerald street, last evening. She made good use of her time to improve her standing.

Remember the nominations close tonight, close for good and all. Now, boys and girls, make up your mind that you are going to win one of these grand prize tours. You have a good chance—probably better than the boys and girls who have already worked among their friends and secured subscriptions from them. The late comers are just as apt to win the prize as the older contestants. Get busy; Get to Work. Above all get SUBSCRIPTIONS. They will land you on top of the heap. You can win one of these prizes, any one you set your mind on—IF YOU TRY. Just as certain the massive ocean liners will land you on the other side of the world, just so will the subscriptions land you high and dry among the winners. WORK. HUSTLE. GET YOUR FRIENDS INTERESTED—AND WIN.

READ THIS!

The Around-the-World Department offices will be open until midnight to-night to receive late comers with their subscriptions for the gold prizes which close at that time, and also to receive late nominees.

Nominations positively close at midnight. The winners of the magnificent Tour Prizes offered free by the BOSTON AMERICAN will be selected from the list of properly qualified nominees only. Get into that list to-day.

YOUNGSTERS AT A TRAVEL TALK

Fifteen hundred boys and girls interested in the BOSTON AMERICAN'S Round-the-World contest flocked into Tremont Temple to-day for a descriptive trip over the route planned as the Summer vacation for the fortunate winners.

It was as bright and enthusiastic a body of little folk as it would be possible to gather. They were quick to grasp the beauty and educational opportunities in the planned itinerary, and when they left the hall it was with renewed resolutions to use every effort to be one of the BOSTON AMERICAN'S guests.

The Rev. Albert E. Winship, editor of the Journal of Education, and Peter S. McNally, the noted athlete and swimmer, both of whom are globe trotters, addressed the audience. Moving pictures helped to bring out the points made by the speakers. There were several illustrated songs from the Irving Music Publishing Company.

HOLD AUTOIST IN DEATH CASE

Michael Marano, chauffeur for Edward Skahan, a wealthy market gardener of Belmont, whose auto ran down and killed Mrs. Leslie Tyler of No. 101 Upland road, Cambridge, is arraigned to-day in the Cambridge District Court. He was released on $3,000 bail shortly after he had been arrested charged with manslaughter.

The accident occurred at Massachusetts avenue and Sacramento street, North Cambridge, and according to witnesses was entirely unavoidable.

Death was instantaneous, the injuries to the woman, according to Medical Examiner Swan, being fractures of the pelvis, collar bone and ribs.

Mrs. Tyler, who was a prominent society and church woman, was crossing the avenue with her dog. She had been visiting friends on Shepard street and was about to visit her sister in Somerville.

As she passed in front of the automobile Marano slacked up and sounded his horn.

Mrs. Tyler, upon hearing the horn, instead of stepping forward, stepped backward and directly in front of the auto. She was knocked down, and the auto passed over her.

In the auto at the time were Marano, Skahan, his wife and their six children.

BARONESS VON HUTTEN, YANKEE BEAUTY, LOSES HUSBAND BY DIVORCE

Special Cable to Boston American.

ROME, May 8.—The Baroness Von Hutten has been divorced. The decree was granted to her husband to-day by a German court on the ground of desertion. There is no alimony, and the Baroness is permitted to see her children for one month each year.

Baroness Von Hutten, who is the famous author of "Pam" and other novels, has been living at the Hotel Quirinal here all Winter with Mrs. Riddle, her mother. Before her marriage the Baroness was Miss Betsy Riddle, one of the smartest girls of the Erie, Pennsylvania, smart set, a niece of the late Tom Scott, president of the Pennsylvania. She is unquestionably one of the most brilliant and beautiful women of title in Europe.

She is just [illegible] years old, very tall and of striking personality. She has practically all the talents, sings, paints, writes and is an accomplished musician. In every way she is the embodiment of an artistic temperament.

Married Thrifty German.

Twelve years ago she married Baron Von Hutten—a plain, thrifty, matter of fact German. Sixty thousand dollars of his fortune was placed in trust for the children and the Baron is so thrifty that they not only lived on the income of this sum, but he paid his debts, got his estate in good order and saved money.

The Baroness is just as extravagant as he is saving. She began writing books in order to gain money. For the last seven years her books have brought in large sums in royalties, and she has splashed money round and over Europe and Asia.

As two of her uncles are in the United States diplomatic service—John Riddle, ambassador to Russia, and Edward C. O'Brien, minister to Japan—she has unusual social advantages.

During that time she has spent only three months with her husband. Her children, Bubi and Betty, are respectively five and eleven years old. The Baron and she have always been friendly, and they exchanged telegrams on anniversaries.

He, however, never permitted the children to leave Germany without him, so whenever the mother wants to see them she has to invite the Baron for a visit.

Due to Artistic Temperament.

Last Autumn, after she began divorce proceedings, he, with the children, visited her for a month at Castle San Giorgio, Porto Fino, Italy. After the visit they returned to the Von Hutten estate near Wurtzburg.

The Baroness told her friends that the disagreement and divorce were due to her "artistic temperament."

When the New York American correspondent repeated this to the Baroness she said, calling her husband a pet name:

"The real trouble is that Freddy is too good. If he only had one small vice, like smoking, for instance, I could almost tolerate him; but he really is too good."

Baroness Von Hutten, American authoress and spendthrift, who has been divorced.

The Baroness explained that she has a soul of flame and perfume which Freddy, being earthly, could not understand. Then she added:

"I am going to Wurtzburg for a month this Summer to see 'Bubi' and Betty. Yes I'll stay at my husband's house, but I shall not mind his being there; his mother will chaperon me, and, oh, I'll be properly chaperoned."

During the past Winter the Baroness von Hutten set Roman society astir by introducing a golden-haired dwarf monkey from Japan named "Lulu," which she took everywhere with her and which nearly cost her her social position here.

At the beginning of the season she numbered among her friends many great art collectors, such as Charles Graham, Mrs. Magee and the Marquis Barberini, but "Lulu" broke so many valuable vases and curios that she ceased to be a welcome guest; in fact, she and "Lulu" were almost ostracized for the last few months in this set.

JORDAN JUROR IS INSANE FROM TRIAL

the chauffeur to follow. The officers used the second machine.

Hardly were they underway when White began to pray vehemently:

"O, God!" he screamed, "give me strength."

He broke out in prayer at intervals on the way to Concord, but offered no violence.

The moment party arrived in Concord square there was trouble. There was a throng of people in the square, with carriages and autos. The atmosphere of excitement roused the lunatic. When the autos stopped at the courthouse steps White needed no further signal to begin afresh:

"I won't go into Concord Court," he screamed. The officers half led, half pulled him out of the car.

"O, God!" shrieked White, "give me strength." And he struggled against the officers.

They got him to the pavement when he backed abruptly. He fell to the ground, carrying with him Patrolman O'Donnell. The officer pulled White to his feet, acting as gently as was possible under the circumstances.

Raves of Jordan Case.

O'Donnell relaxed his grip for a second and White, with a maniac's cunning, took instant advantage. He broke away, sprang into the auto, hopped up in the rear seat and yelled:

"Take me to Cambridge—I'll tell all I know—Jordan is no more insane than I am—the testimony of the alienists was all a fake—the verdict was absolutely according to the laws of the Commonwealth."

Then he screamed:

"I won't go into court. Handcuff me and take me to Cambridge. Last night someone tried to poison me. I'm as sane as you are. I made no mistake in the Jordan trial. I did right and satisfied the law. If you can't hold me, shoot me."

Mrs. White, heroically calm in this crisis of her domestic life, stood up on the seat with her husband, patting him gently and saying:

"There, there, father, keep still; don't make a scene. See all the people looking at us."

She was right about people looking. The Concord populace stared with all the morbid interest a crowd would take in a wife striving to soothe her maniac husband.

"Nobody can get ahead of me," howled White. "Every time they get ahead of me I forge checks and beat them. I never drank a drop of liquor after I was thirty-five."

"Start the auto around the square," said Dr. Rich quietly to the chauffeur. The strangest auto ride in Concord began. White stopped yelling. He suddenly noticed his wife standing beside him on the seat of the slowly moving auto. He grasped her around the waist. He hugged her affectionately. He kissed her. Mrs. White, reckless of the crowd or the publicity and only seeking to quiet her husband, suffered his kisses before the general gaze. A few callous ones in the throng snickered.

"There, there, father," pleaded the wife, desperately. "They won't hurt you."

Three times around the square went the auto, with the man kissing and embracing his wife, but gradually becoming quieter.

Carried Into Court.

Dr. Rich signalled the chauffeur to stop again. The minute White spied the court house he began to get uneasy right away.

Then Dr. H. A. Titcomb of Concord came along, questioned White about his pulse and said: "You need a doctor, Mr. White. Come into the court house a minute."

"Oh, no, I won't go in there," cried White. "Judge Keyes is a nice old man and my friend, but I won't see him."

The two policemen and the two physicians abruptly picked him up by the arms and legs and carried him up the steps into the ante-room of the court. White squirmed and kicked all the way.

In the anteroom White was disrobed and the doctors examined him. Selectman Arthur Walker of Maynard was present. Judge John S. Keyes, the eighty-year-old presiding justice of Concord District Court, came into the anteroom from the courtroom, where he was trying a case. White was very calm by this time.

"Hello, Judge Keyes," he said. "I'll go anywhere you send me. Where are you going to send me, to Worcester?"

After their examination the doctors signed certificates that White had "acute and violent mania." Selectman Walker, acting for the town of Maynard, made out an application for White's commitment. After brief consideration, Judge Keyes signed the papers committing White to the Worcester Insane Hospital.

Brother Dead in Asylum.

At 11:20 White was escorted without trouble out to an automobile and was started over the road to Worcester with Selectman Walker, Thomas Ford, owner of the car, and the two policemen. The last Concord Square saw of him he turned back and said:

"Remember me to the Judge. Remember me to my folks. It's a fine day."

Mrs. White had previously returned home with Alton, her son. She was unable to stand any further strain. She had expressed willingness to sign the application for her husband's commitment but to spare her further ordeal, Selectman Walker offered to do this on behalf of the town.

Dr. Rich said after the hearing that White had a brother who died in an insane asylum in Augusta, Me.

It was learned from excellent authority to-day that early next week, eprhaps Monday, Jordan's lawyers will file with Judges Stevens and Bell, who presided at the trial, a formal application that the verdict of the jury in the case of Jordan be set aside, and will allege as the basis for their application that an insane man, Willis A. White, of Maynard, was a member of the jury; that Willis A. White has been committed to an asylum for the insane; that Willis A. White prior to the trial and during the trial did not, by reason of his affliction, have the mental capacity and judgment to properly serve as a juror, and through this lack of mental capacity and judgment the rights of the defendant were not amply protected and were prejudiced in so far as the judgment of Juror White were concerned.

Sister Sees Hope.

Mrs. Nellie Kendall of Somerville, a sister of Jordan, said to-day:

"I am very sorry that Mr. White is so unfortunate as to be taken so ill, but I am glad if my brother will get a new trial because of the situation."

Sheriff John R. Fairbairn, who has charge of the East Cambridge jail where Jordan is confined, said:

"I noticed during the trial that Juror White was a nervous man, but not any more so than some of the newspaper reporters."

Deputies Eveleth, Whitman and Walsh, who had charge of the jury doing the trial, noticed nothing out of the ordinary about Mr. White.

State Officer Edward Byrnes, who is attached to the office of District-Attorney John J. Higgins, returned to East Cambridge to-day after having spent the night in Maynard investigating Mr. White's condition, present and past. He will turn the information over to Assistant District-Attorney Charles Wier.

District Attorney Higgins is on one of the United Fruit Company steamers en route for Jamaica, where he has gone to recuperate from the strain of the trial. He is due in Jamaica to-morrow. His wife received a wireless from him yesterday, stating that he was well.

It was recalled to-day that while alienists were describing the tests which they had subjected the convicted wife-slayer to, that the juror from Maynard was unconsciously applying the tests to himself.

Showed Signs of Insanity.

When the alienists graphically described how Jordan's eyes winked, it was noticed that White's eyes closed and opened unconsciously. It was also observed that White's knees "jerked" as the experts told of the "knee jerks" which they had noticed in their examination of Jordan.

Throughout the trial White, it was recalled to-day, clearly showed that he was on the verge of insanity.

Juror White was much impressed at the trial during the testimony of Dr. William J. McDonald, Jr., the Rhode Island alienist, and during the argument of District Attorney Higgins. During the Higgins argument he wept.

He followed the testimony of Dr. McDonald very carefully and applied some of the tests to himself.

ADA REHAN ILL ON THE PIER

NEW YORK, May 8.—Ada Rehan, the actress, who retired from the stage several years ago, collapsed to-day on the American line pier as she was about to sail on the Philadelphia for her English home. She had to be carried to her cabin.

As Miss Rehan stepped from her carriage near the gang plank she staggered and then put her hands up to her forehead as if she had grown dizzy. Superintendent Wright of the American line pier happened to be nearby and he sprang to her assistance.

The actress was helped to her cabin on the Philadelphia and sank into a chair. She was hardly able to talk, but just managed to say that she had been attacked suddenly last Wednesday with fainting spells and had been very ill since.

MYSTERY IN DEATH OF MAN IN ATTIC

LEOMINSTER, May 8.—The mystery surrounding the death of Charles Dudley, whose body was found in the attic of the Leominster Woodworking Company's factory, is being investigated by the local police to-day. Relatives fear that Dudley may have been the victim of foul play.

Medical Examiner Frederick H. Thompson of Fitchburg to-day conducts an autopsy on the body to determine the exact cause of death. It is possible that arrests may take place as the result of his finding.

The police are led to believe that Dudley may have been attacked because of the fact that contusions and abrasions were found on the man's neck and face.

ANOTHER LIGHT BATTLE IS DUE

The big battle over the lighting contract having been settled for the time, another fight of equal importance has begun and will rage all Summer. The one just concluded, by which the Edison Company will receive $1,023,000 in the next five years, was, in the opinion of many, the big plum. But another just as big for lighting the streets now illuminated by gas and gasolene lamps will be given next September. The Rising Sun Gas Company now holds it, and will fight for a renewal.

The Edison Company is already in the contest, and a New York company backed by a man named Lothrop, formerly of Boston, wants the pudding. Each has agreed to a test imposed by Guy Emerson, superintendent of streets. He has assigned them equal parts of the street he lives on in Jamaica Plain, and there each will install its type of lamp. During the months to come he can study the relative merits of each at leisure.

The Edison Company, with permission of the city officials, last night made an interesting experiment in Copley square to prove its assertion that Copley square is the best lighted plaza in the world, exceeding even the famous Brandenburger square in Berlin in that respect, and the three new General Electric flaming lamps now used there were temporarily turned out and the old Gilbert lamps, seven of them, which were formerly used at double the cost, were lighted.

Representatives of the two lights each said his was the better.

DR. GLADDEN'S WIFE DEAD

COLUMBUS, O., May 8.—Mrs. Gladden, wife of Dr. Washington Gladden, pastor of the First Congregational Church, died to-day of arterial sclerosis. She has been been an invalid for four years. Dr. and Mrs. Gladden have made Columbus their home since 1882. They have three children, Fred and George of New York, their former home, and Miss Alice Gladden, co-principal of the Columbus school for girls.

HONOR ADMIRAL BY BAS-RELIEF

The dedication of the tablet of Rear Admiral John A. Winslow took place to-day in Memorial Hall at the State House. Miss Katherine Ricketson, the eight-year-old granddaughter of Councillor Charles Brightman of New Bedford, drew the cord that bared the bronze tablet, while the Hon. John W. Weeks, member of Congress, delivered the oration. The presentation of the bas-relief was made to Governor Draper by Councillor Seward W. Jones.

TAFT TO DEMAND NEW COMMODITIES LAW

WASHINGTON, May 8.—In view of the deep interest taken by Congress in the recent decision of the United States Supreme Court in the commodities case, it is not improbable, it was said at the capital to-day, that President Taft may send a special message to Congress recommending the passage of a bill amending the Hepburn act to meet the questions raised by the court's decision.

President Taft has asked the attorney-general to prepare a statement that will give exactly the import of the court's decision. With hardly an exception members and Senators are agreed that the Hepburn act should be amended to meet the issue raised by the court and make effective the intention of Congress when it passed that act.

NEW SULTAN IS "CROWNED"

CONSTANTINOPLE, May 8.—The girding of the sword of "Othman" upon Mehemed V. took place to-day. This ceremony, which answers to the rites of crowning in monarchies, was consummated amid great splendor and magnificence. The Grand Sheik of Novlells Dede, Abdul Malin Effendi, next to the new Sultan, was the principal figure at the investure.

It was the Grand Sheik who fastened the sword upon the belt of the new ruler, while high functionaries of the court and State, garbed in costumes of regal splendor, glittering with jewels, stood about.

Mehemed V. left the palace riding upon a white horse, the harness of which glittered with precious stones. Two hundred Mademes, attired in scarlet livery embroidered in gold, wearing monumental head dresses from which swept long, costly plumes, and carrying bunches of ostrich feathers, preceded the sovereign.

The girding of the sword was the first function of magnificence in which the democratic new sovereign has indulged.

CONFERS DEGREE ON JAP AMBASSADOR

AMHERST, May 8.—President Harris of Amherst College conferred the honorary degree of doctor of laws on Ambassador Baron Kogoro Takahira of Japan. In replying to President Harris's speech of presentation the Japanese ambassador spoke briefly, saying in part:

"I do not deserve this honor. I receive it as a token of the friendly sentiments existing toward the people whose country I have the honor of representing."

That Pain in the Back!

"I am perfectly well, except for a pain in my back, which gives me some trouble."

This is said by many a person suffering from incipient kidney disease, which steals upon its victim so silently that he seldom knows his danger until the disease is firmly established.

One of the earliest symptoms of kidney trouble is a slight pain in the back, with some irregularity in the urinary passages, and a soreness about the loins. As the disease develops there are stabs and twinges of pain; slow, gnawing backaches; irregular action of the heart, rheumatism, dropsy, inflammation of the bladder, loss of energy and loss of weight.

If you have any of the symptoms of this dangerous disease, do not waste time in hoping that it will pass away. You should begin using Doan's Kidney Pills, the old and long-tried remedy. It acts directly on the diseased parts, and relieves the pains and aches.

An Old Family Remedy

In a settlement of Quaker farmers at Stayner, Ont., three-quarters of a century ago, an aged Quakeress, "Aunty" Mary Rogers, dispensed to all the countryside a home made kidney cure, the formula of which had been handed to her in some obscure way from the early settlers, who, long before they had doctors among them, studied the herbs and plants and had some simple vegetable remedy for nearly every human ill. To "Aunty" Rogers went every one with a lame or crooked back, and the fame of her remedy spread so far that she no longer was able to meet the demands. Then she turned the formula over to James Doan, a druggist, of Kingston, Ont.

In Use for Two Generations

James Doan, even in those early days, saw the value of publicity, and along the highways and byways of the province placed quaint posters depicting queer, impish-looking figures, first contorted with backaches, then throwing away their needless crutches after the use of Doan's Kidney Pills.

American enterprise learned of "Aunty" Mary Rogers's formula in 1894, and the Foster-Milburn Co., makers of medicines at Buffalo, N. Y., arranged to market the remedy. Representatives were sent to every country on the globe where there are sufferers from aching backs. The virtues of the old Quaker remedy brought success everywhere, and more than 200,000 persons, writing in practically every language under the sun, have sent to the Foster-Milburn Co. their testimonials to the value of Doan's Kidney Pills.

BOSTON TESTIMONY

Frank A. Fisher, traveling salesman, 27 E. Concord street, Boston, Mass., says: "Doan's Kidney Pills have done wonders for me. I had kidney trouble for two years and I suffered intensely from pains in the small of my back. In the morning when I got up, I was lame and during the day I felt tired and languid. The least cold I caught settled in my kidneys and caused the kidney secretions to pass too frequently. Doan's Kidney Pills relieved me in a short time and continued use made a permanent cure. I am very thankful to this remedy for the benefit it has brought."

Mrs. George Lee, 651 E. Fourth street, South Boston, Mass., says: "In November, 1904, I was confined to my bed for nine weeks by an attack of pneumonia and it was thought that I would not recover. I did, however, but found that my kidneys had been left badly disordered. I had some backache, but the chief difficulty was from a frequent desire to pass the kidney secretions. I had no energy or strength to do my housework and if I stooped, I became very dizzy. On a friend's advice I finally commenced taking Doan's Kidney Pills and before long I could see that they were helping me. After I had used three boxes of this remedy I felt like a new woman. You can put me down as a strong advocate of Doan's Kidney Pills."

BOSTON PROOF

Miss Sarah A. Berry, professional nurse, No. 100A Main street, Suite 2, Malden, Mass., says: "In my profession as a trained nurse many cases of kidney trouble come to my notice. I have found Doan's Kidney Pills to be an excellent specific in relieving disorders arising from the kidneys. This preparation acts as a general regulator and tonic and always brings the desired benefit. I have no hesitation in recommending Doan's Kidney Pills as a splendid kidney medicine."

Eugene Schoepflin, 156 Webster Street, East Boston, Mass., says: "I am pleased to recommend Doan's Kidney Pills to any one suffering from kidney trouble, as I know that this remedy lives up to representations. Some six years ago I began to suffer from heavy backaches and a bearing-down pain through my kidneys. These attacks came on once every four or five weeks and made me very miserable. Learning of Doan's Kidney Pills, I commenced taking them and they gave me complete relief. Some years later, when I noticed a slight pain in my back, I again took this remedy and it drove away the trouble."

Snapshot of Nora Iselin and Count She Is to Wed

This snapshot of Miss Iselin was taken just as she was leaving the residence of Mgr. Lavelle, who is to perform the ceremony in New York. Miss Iselin was accompanied by Count Colloredo-Mannsfeld.

DEFIES FATHER, TO WED COUNT

NEW YORK, May 8.—"I shall wed him Monday," is the reply of Miss Nora Iselin to reports that a hitch had occurred in the plans for her wedding to Count Colloredo-Mannsfeld.

A consultation was held at the St. Regis, which was attended by the Count and his brother, Count Rudolf, and it was said that C. Oliver Iselin had refused either to settle the Count's debts or make a marriage settlement on his daughter.

Mr. Iselin refused to see callers, and though word was sent to him that rumors were being circulated that he had ordered the wedding presents to be returned he refused to answer.

Miss Nora Iselin left the St. Regis unattended, and went to No. 132 East Thirty-second street, where she met Mrs. Lawrence Waterbury. They went to Sherry's, where Miss Iselin met the Count and his brother.

None of the Iselin family would consent to be interviewed. C. Oliver Iselin was reported to be ill in bed with a trained nurse in attendance. The Count refused to see callers at the Gotham.

Count Colloredo is secretary to the Austrian Embassy at Rome. It is a matter of comment that the wedding presents have not been unpacked.

BUSY DAY FOR BALLOON ASCENSIONS

Three balloon ascensions were made in the western part of the State to-day. Two ascensions were made from North Adams and the third from Pittsfield.

Dr. R. M. Randall of North Adams in his own balloon, the "Greylock," 25,000 cubic feet, made his tenth ascension, going alone to qualify for a pilot's license, started at 2:47 a. m. and drifted to the southeast in a light wind.

At 3 a. m. A. H. Forbes, president of the Aero Club of New England, with C. H. Harrison of New York as passenger, ascended in the balloon "North Adams No. 1," drifting slowly eastward in a light wind, and was reported at 9:30 as landing safely in Bolton, a town south of Clinton.

"The trip was entirely successful," said Mr. Forbes. "Our highest elevation was 11,200 feet. When we made the ascent we were in a flood of moonlight. Soon this faded and for some time were wrapped in darkness and could not see the earth. Finally as we flew eastward we saw the city of Clinton far below and we came down, as we knew it would be a good shipping point for the balloon."

William H. Whitehouse, a New York broker, and his brother, Shelton Whitehouse with Pilot William Van Sleet, drifted over Pittsfield for three hours today in the balloon "Pittsfield," landing at 1:05 near the flagpole in West Pittsfield, four miles from Arrow Park, the starting place. They reported but one light breeze that carried them twelve miles west to Canaan, New York. The wind suddenly shifted at that point, and they were pulled back to Pittsfield, where hung until they made their decent.

WILLARD IS NAMED MINNESOTA JUDGE

WASHINGTON, May 8.—The President to-day sent to the Senate the nomination of George Donworth to be judge for the western district of Washington State, and of Charles A. Willard to be United States district judge in Minnesota. Judge Willard is now justice of the Supreme Court of the Philippines.

FOUR MONTHS FOR TAKING HANDBAGS

Charged with the larceny of $35 worth of handbags from the store of H. A. Winship, No. 13 Tremont row, Daniel McMillan, claiming Watertown as his home, was sent to-day by Judge Murray to the House of Correction for four months. The police say they know him well.

T. ROOSEVELT; HOODOO DOCTOR

NAIROBI, British East Africa, May 8.—Two new cases of smallpox were reported to-day among the natives at Mashakos, forty miles from the headquarters of the Roosevelt party. The Roosevelt party, however, is not believed to be in the slightest danger.

The medicine men of the Masai tribe, whose fearful superstitions are "all the law and the prophets," to the ignorant natives, have announced that they have seen an evil star which presages a drought and a fearful famine and pestilence. There are no signs of a draught yet, but the natives are so agitated that they are waiting for "Swana Tumbo," alias Theodore Roosevelt, to return, when he will be implored to drive away the influence of the evil spirit.

In fact, if it does not rain within a few days the natives will not wait for Mr. Roosevelt's return, but will go in search of him and tell him of the evils that awaits them if he does not use his magic. The last word from the hunting party was that they had found the trail of several giraffes and were beating their way in a southwesterly direction.

FALLING BABY IS SAVED BY FENCE

LYNN, May 8.—The life of four-year-old Gertrude Tatham, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Tatham of No. 22 Ashton terrace, was saved to-day by her dress catching on a picket fence when she fell three stories from the balcony of her home. The child would have landed on concrete walk, if her clothing had not caught and held her.

She was leaning out to watch other children at play when she fell.

Mrs. Louis Packard, a neighbor, saw her fall and shut her eyes to keep out the sight of what she thought would be the tot dashed to death. She released the little girl from the fence and brought her to her mother.

"Oh, mamma, see my pretty dress—all torn," was the child's greeting to her mother, who was hugging her and covering her little face with kisses. Dr. Judkins pronounced the child uninjured, and she was soon playing again with the other children.

IT IS TO LAUGH!!! The funniest pictures in the world. They make all the children happy and make all the older people as happy as children. See the COMIC SECTION of tomorrow's SUNDAY AMERICAN.

THREE DOGS TREE "BATTERY DAN"

NEW YORK, May 8.—Attacked by three great Dane dogs while on his way to the Morrisania Police Court, Magistrate "Battery Dan" Finn saved himself by climbing a nearby lamppost and nestling there until attaches of the court, arriving several minutes later, rescued him from his predicament. The dogs were owned by Mrs. Helen Heinz of No. 515 East One Hundred and Fifty-Second street, opposite where the Magistrate was attacked. When he took his seat on the bench he issued a summons for the woman.

While coasting down High street, Dorchester, on a bicycle to-day Flossie and Helen Elston, sisters, aged fourteen and twelve years respectively, were seriously injured by colliding with a stone wall at the foot of the hill and near the Mather School on Hancock street.

Dr. Frederick McVeight saw the accident from his window, and carried the little girls to his office. Helen, the younger child, sustained severe scalp wounds as well as a broken arm.

TODAY'S STOCK MARKETS: FINANCIAL NEWS

WALL ST. NEWS FOR INVESTORS

WALL STREET, New York, May 8—Wall Street is enjoying a boom such as it has not witnessed since the days immediately following the Presidential election last year. For the first time in months the copper shares have joined in the demonstration.

Amalgamated and Anaconda show old-time vigor, crushing the shorts and moving up at a record rate to new high prices. All the low cost producers in the copper list, known as "porphyry coppers" or "steam shovel mines," followed the veteran leaders. Every respectable copper stock on the Exchange or on the Curb has a new high price for the year.

$ $ $

The Steel shares have performed wonders. The preferred when selling ex-dividend 1¾ per cent, made up all but ⅛ of that dividend before the day ended, while the common has advanced to within a point of its highest recorded price. Stocks of the car equipment companies are also active and strong.

$ $ $

Perhaps the most important reason for the strength is the announcement that the big railroad companies will put in large orders for equipment in the next few days. The New York Central system announced preparations for spending about $6,000,000 for equipment, and the Pennsylvania is said to have a large order in contemplation. The steel companies naturally feel the first effect of these reports, but use of steel is only a step toward consumption of copper. Those in control of the copper shares are losing no time in bringing their specialties to the front.

$ $ $

It is now reported that although the Amalgamated has been producing at a cost of above twelve cents, advantage has been taken of the recent panic to install some modern machinery that may enable it to hold its own, even with some of the low cost producers. In addition to that the Amalgamated is negotiating for some steam shovel mines in the Southwest and has discovered bonanza ore in the Boston & Montana mine at Butte. That may be where the North Butte bonanza has gone. Several deals affecting the low priced copper stocks that were held up because of the unsatisfactory market for these securities are now being put through. One that will probably be announced shortly will affect the Tennessee Copper Company.

$ $ $

Cheap money and a sudden realization by the public that prosperity is actually returning furnished the mainsprings of the market. Commission houses report an unusual large volume of orders from the outside public. There is a large short interest in some leaders, but the best buying is for genuine investment. The public is seized with a fear that the stocks may all be gone before Summer, and the big people are nursing this idea by refusing to sell. If the public has suddenly turned bullish it is only reflecting to a slight degree the enthusiastic feelings of insiders, who have never been so bullish on stocks as they are at this high level. The bigger the banker the more bullish he seems to be on the market. The reason is that his enlarged facilities for seeing the real growth of business give him a view of more activity than is within the ken of the ordinary observer.

$ $ $

In fact, the situation looks so good that it makes some of the veterans afraid, for it is just at times like this that the unexpected happens. If no great man in finance dies suddenly, if no earthquake shakes down a city and no international calamity comes to pass, Wall street will work itself up into a frenzy of bullish enthusiasm in a few days. For that reason alone it may be well to sound a warning note. All the known factors point to higher prices immediately. There is no way of guarding against the unexpected, so Wall street is forgetting the unexpected.

$ $ $

Among the stupendous ideas with which Wall street was swollen was the great Union Pacific-New York Central combination. New York Central has been acting in a most mysterious manner between 129 and 132 for the last three months, and has crossed 132 again on heavy buying. The short interest in this stock is respectable, but sufficient to account for what is being done, and for the hundredth time the tape seemed to confirm the story of the combination.

$ $ $

The enthusiasm in the stock market is world-wide. London really started the copper boom and joined with New York in putting up the steels. The money situation in London and in New York is better than it was a week ago. New York banks show a gain of about $5,000,000 on known movements of money for the week. A large part of this came from the interior, representing the return of May dividends and interest payments for re-investment.

$ $ $

The Government report on Winter wheat is rather worse than the Street expected. Just before it was issued wheat broke four cents a bushel, but when the public realized that there would be only about 415,000,000 bushels of this year's Winter crop there was a sharp advance that nearly made up the loss. The stock market is depending on extra large plantings of corn and Spring wheat to make good the deficiency in Winter wheat, and in this it undoubtedly will not be disappointed. The stock market paid no attention to the wheat report.

THE MODERN DANCE OF DEATH is shown in sensational new paintings by Max Klinger in tomorrow's BOSTON SUNDAY AMERICAN.

GIRLS WORK TOO LONG EMPLOYERS FINED

LYNN, May 8.—The firm of Besse & Rolf was fined $50 by Judge Sisk in the Municipal Court to-day on a charge of employing girls more than the legal number of hours in its department store. On complaint of the State Dairy Bureau, four restaurant keepers, charged with having oleomargarine without notice to their customers, were fined $10 each. They were William H. Hitchcock, Charles T. Montour, John Moulison and Emma T. Stacey.

POLICE DRAGNET OUT FOR ROBBINS

The police of this city and surrounding places are to-day searching for Frederick B. Robbins, the third man wanted in connection with the alleged stealing of property of more than $10,000 value belonging to deceased persons in Massachusetts and depositors of the Suffolk Savings Bank, and whom Charles Hall Adams, a defendant in the case, charges as the person responsible for the whole trouble.

Adams, who is Consul of Nicaragua and Liberia, and commissioner of deeds for the State, and William W. Risk, an attorney with offices at No. 18 Tremont street, are being held in $5,000 bail.

SECRETARY MEYER GOES TO ANNAPOLIS

WASHINGTON, May 8.—Secretary Meyer, accompanied by Mrs. Meyer and the Misses Meyer and party, left Washington on the dispatch boat Dolphin for Annapolis, where to-day the Secretary inspects the naval academy.

COPPER BREAK SHORT LIVED

STATE STREET—A 6½-point break in North Butte this forenoon rather upset the copper share market for a short period. This was accomplished in less than fifteen minutes, but the recovery to 65 was almost as quickly accomplished. It had every appearance of a bear raid, but decline was accentuated by stop loss orders. There were rumors that the dividend had been passed, but inasmuch as the directors hold their meetings in the West, no confirmation could be reached.

Other Market Features.

Amalgamated touched 84½, but slid off to 83⅝, with almost complete recovery. The North Butte break caused general recessions, but in most cases recoveries followed from the low. Boston Consolidated fell from 17¼ to 16⅝, Butte Coalition from 28 to 27, Copper Range from 82½ to 80⅝, Isle Royale from 28½ to 26½, the latter recovering almost 28, and Lake from 26 to 25¼. Calumet & Hecla sold at 635@640, which is its highest for many months. Steel common touched 58¼ in this market.

Active Curb Market.

The curb had one of the most active forenoons that it has had in a long time. Davis-Daly rose to 7, Ohio Copper to 6¾ on buying for a stock exchange house, and Cumberland Ely rose to 8⅝. There was activity in Consolidated Arizona, which rose 18 to 88 cents. Yukon touched 4⅝. Majestic sold up to 98 cents and National Exploration to 60 cents, the latter being up 10 cents.

M'VEAGH EXPLAINS CHEAP EXTRACT

CHICAGO, May 8.—Eames MacVeagh, a partner in Franklin MacVeagh & Co. and a son of the Secretary of the Treasury, laughingly admits that some of the cheaper grades of "lemon extract" manufactured by the firm contain oil of lemon grass, as charged by Speaker Bancroft of the Wisconsin Legislature. "There is nothing illegal about that," said Mr. MacVeagh, "provided the labels are marked 'imitation.' All other manufacturers of flavoring extracts make a cheap lemon flavoring from this ingredient. There is a demand for extract of this sort from persons who cannot afford to pay for the high-priced flavorings which contain fruit juice."

JUSTICE HARLAN'S NEPHEW SENTENCED

PENSACOLA, Fla., May 8.—Because of refusal of the Supreme Court of the United States, of which his uncle is a member, to grant a writ of certiorari, Manager Harlan of the Jackson Lumber Company of Lockhart, Ala., and Robert Gallagher, assistant superintendent, and three of the company's foremen will have to serve terms in the Atlanta Federal Prison, to which they were sentenced in the United States Circuit Court three years ago for conspiracy to commit peonage.

NEW RECORDS FOR STOCKS

By T. C. SHOTWELL.

NEW YORK, May 8.—Another buoyant opening excited Wall Street to-day with the steels, Southern Pacific and copper shares leaders. All made new high records for the year. Steel preferred sold up to 120¾, the common to 58¼, Southern Pacific to 123⅛, Smelters at 95½ and Amalgamated at 84⅝.

On the curb market the same excitement prevailed with the new coppers making records on every quotation. Inspiration sold at 7⅛, Ray Central at 3¼, Cumberland-Ely at 8⅝, and Nevada Consolidated at 21½. The only tragedy of the day was a break of six points in North Butte which fell from 67½ to 61½ on transactions of a few hundred shares.

Missouri Pacific was up a point on rumors that a new bond issue was forthcoming. New York Central sold up to 133.

In London, trading was also very active with the steels, coppers and Southern Pacific in leadership. Business was on a very heavy scale and commission houses were full of orders from the outside public. Profit taking on a large scale.

FILENE IN FAVOR OF CONSOLIDATION

Edward A. Filene favors the consolidation of the many improvement associations in metropolitan Boston, which has just been brought about. He says it is directly in line with the Boston-1915 movement, with which he has so much to do. "It gives an opportunity for all the organizations to meet and discuss their needs and to help each other," he said.

Judge Michael H. Sullivan, president of the United Improvement Association, said: "Local affairs must still be handled by local associations, but all will be much assisted in obtaining facts and devising ways of accomplishment by the united or central organization."

MILLIONAIRES ARE DRAWN ON JURY LIST

Citizens from all walks of life are found on the 1909 jury list for Suffolk County, which the election commissioners have just prepared. In compiling the list the utmost care was exercised, and every voter whose name appears as eligible to serve as a juror had his qualifications and record thoroughly investigated before his name was affixed.

Ward 11 can furnish several venires of jurors, every one of whom is rated as a millionaire, if necessity warrants it. Among them are Carl Dreyfus, the merchant; Samuel Carr, the former member of the Finance Commission and intimate friend of President Taft; Nathaniel N. Thayer, Francis J. Moore, the banker; Leonard D. Ahl, formerly of the bath trustees; Edwin D. Mead, David C. Percival, Jr., Isaac C. Tolman, banker; Allen Ainslie, Lawrence Curtis and Anthony S. Reed.

Smiling "Jim" Donovan, president of the Democratic City Committee, is eligible to serve from Ward 9, and others more or less prominent in city affairs are Patrick J. Kennedy, the East Boston leader; William J. Power, leader of the "Tipcarts" of Ward 20; John F. Sullivan, the Ward 2 leader; Andrew A. Badaracco, the Ward 6 Democratic chairman; "Bill" Cuddy and Alfred J. Lill, Jr., two of Martin Lomasney's most active lieutenants; Ex-Alderman David F. Barry, James W. H. Myrick, the Ward 9 Republican leader, and Ex-Alderman Henry A. Frothingham.

NEW CLOTHING SHOP UP TO THE MINUTE

Ely Meyer and M. C. Simon, makers of high grade men's clothing, who have tailoring shops at Rochester, N. Y., and retail shops in the principal cities, have opened a retail shop in Boston at No. 384 Washington street, corner of Franklin street.

The new shop is modern to the last minute and has an atmosphere of quiet, refined elegance—a harmonious background for the excellent stock which shows in its selection a knowledge of the cultivated taste.

This shop will sell exclusively the clothes made by Ely Meyer and M. C. Simon in connection with a relatively distinctive grade of men's furnishings. The new store is under the management of Joe Beeson, managing partner, and T. Henry Clarkson, assistant manager.

TRAIN RUNS WILD IN NORTH STATION

Railroad Fireman George A. Davis of No. 30 Lincoln street, Somerville, is a hero to-day. He saved the lives of scores of persons on a Boston & Maine train, running wild, by leaping to the seat of the engineer, who had fallen unconscious, and applying the air brakes just in time to preevnt the heavy train from plunging into the waiting room at the North station.

The train, which was composed of five heavy cars, and which carried over 200 passengers, burst through the iron rail into the passenger promenade before it could be stopped by the brave fireman.

"I AM SURE OF GOING FREE," SAYS HAINS

FLUSHING, L. I., May 8.—Captain Peter C. Hains, in whose trial for the murder of William E. Annis there is a day's lull, has broken his strange silence and declared in an interview published to-day that he feels positive he will be acquitted.

While he talked the voice seemed to come from a corpse. Hains did not look at the interviewer, but kept staring out of the window and his words were mumbled and half inaudible.

"I am glad it is nearly over," he said. "I think I will surely be acquitted, don't you?" he asked wistfully.

"Dr. Manson's experts did very well. I am glad, too, that others think I will be acquitted as well as I do myself."

About People You Know

Blaine, and the sole survivor of the pallbearers who officiated at the funeral of President U. S. Grant, has been elected by the directors of the Temple Mishkan Tefila, Moreland street, Roxbury, as rabbi of the church, and will be formally installed as such to-morrow.

RALPH L. FLANDERS, general manager of the Boston Opera Co., left the city with a party of friends for Carroll, Me., on a fishing trip. It will be a well deserved rest for Mr. Flanders.

A. H. KIRKLAND, formerly superintendent of the State work against the gypsy and browntail moths, is enjoying himself on his farm at Huntington, where, he writes a friend in Boston, he is splitting big logs with a sledge and acquiring muscles "as hard as nails."

JOSEPH GURNEY CANNON, Speaker of the House of Representatives, more familiarly known as "Uncle Joe," has reached the seventy-third milestone in his active career.

REV. WILLIAM S. NICHOLS of Roxbury has accepted a call to the pastorate of the North Unitarian Church at North Andover.

A Physician Cures His Wife of Consumption

It Costs You Nothing to Try This Same Treatment.

Gentlemen:

"My wife was down with consumption when I ordered a bottle of Aicsol (Lloyd). She was very weak from night sweats, cough and in a feverish condition. I noticed a change for the better after ten days' treatment and from that time on up to three months when the cure was completed. Aicsol (Lloyd) kills the Tubercle Bacillus in the blood and tissue and it is the only remedy so far discovered that will do this. It is a preventive as well as a cure. It should be used by those who are run down or those who fear the approach of Consumption. It can be truthfully said that Aicsol (Lloyd) for the cure and prevention of Consumption is the most wonderful compound of the present age."

DR. W. H. KNIGHT, Swampscott, Mass.

This is only one of hundreds of similar letters from leading physicians and grateful patients that we have received and have on file in our office.

So sure are we that Aicsol (Lloyd) is a successful treatment for Consumption and Chronic Bronchitis, and that you will feel its beneficial effects inside of fifteen days, that we will gladly send a full month's treatment to any sufferer who will send us their name and address.

We make no conditions except that you take the treatment for fifteen days, according to directions. Should the results be such as to make you absolutely sure that a continuance of Aicsol (Lloyd) will cure you, you are to remit us $5.00 for same and continue the treatment until it is all used. If, after taking the treatment for fifteen days, you are not satisfied with the results, you are to return the unused portion of the treatment to us and no charge will be made for that which you have used.

Judd Q. Lloyd, the eminent scientist who discovered this wonderful preparation, was on December 15, 1908, awarded a diploma of merit by the London Society of Science, Letters and Art, in recognition of his valuable services to mankind in discovering Aicsol (Lloyd), the only known successful treatment for consumption. The society was established in 1881, for the purpose of meriting the one greatest achievement in scientific discoveries each year, in each country.

Aicsol (Lloyd) is a perfectly palatable preparation. You take absolutely no risk whatever, for Aicsol (Lloyd) must be entirely satisfactory to you before you pay us one cent. The burden of the proof is entirely on us. What Aicsol (Lloyd) has done for others it should do for you. Send your name and address to-day, state nearest express office and we will send you a full month's treatment for trial with full directions. Restorall Chemical Co., 503 Lloyd Bldg., St. Louis, Mo.

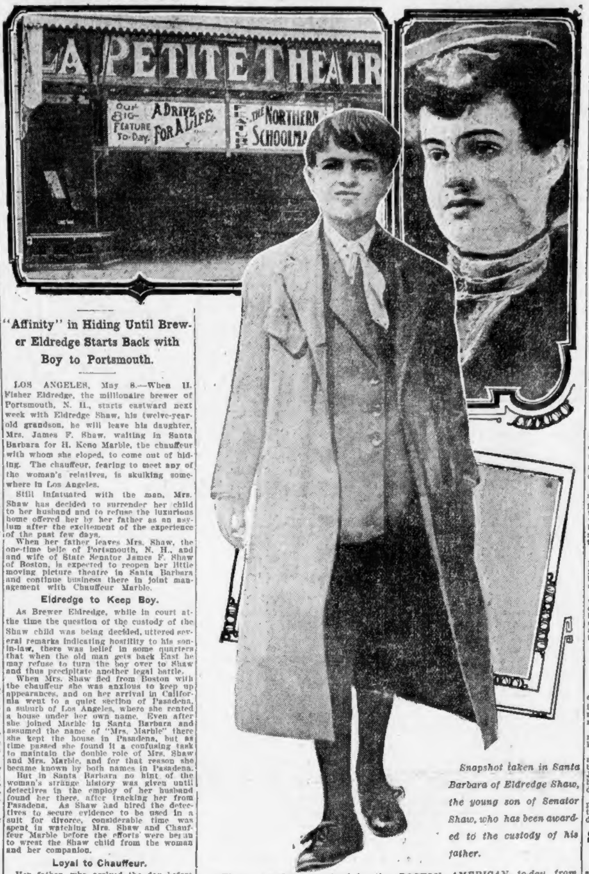
MRS. SHAW GIVES UP SON TO STAY WITH CHAUFFEUR

Chauffeur Marble's Theatre.

Mrs. James H. Shaw.



Snapshot taken in Santa Barbara of Eldredge Shaw, the young son of Senator Shaw, who has been awarded to the custody of his father.

These snapshots, received by the BOSTON AMERICAN to-day from Santa Barbara, of Mrs. James Shaw, eloping wife of Senator Shaw of Boston, and their son Eldredge, over whose custody the parents have been contesting, are the first to reach Boston showing them as the appear to-day. The theatre shown is the ten-cent moving picture house conducted by Mrs. Shaw's "Affinity," Chauffeur H. Keno Marble. At this theatre Mrs. Shaw has been working as ticket seller.

"Affinity" in Hiding Until Brewer Eldredge Starts Back with Boy to Portsmouth.

LOS ANGELES, May 8.—When H. Fisher Eldredge, the millionaire brewer of Portsmouth, N. H., starts eastward next week with Eldredge Shaw, his twelve-year-old grandson, he will leave his daughter, Mrs. James F. Shaw, waiting in Santa Barbara for H. Keno Marble, the chauffeur with whom she eloped, to come out of hiding. The chauffeur, fearing to meet any of the woman's relatives, is skulking somewhere in Los Angeles.

Still infatuated with the man, Mrs. Shaw has decided to surrender her child to her husband and to refuse the luxurious home offered her by her father as an asylum after the excitement of the experience of the past few days.

When her father leaves Mrs. Shaw, the one-time belle of Portsmouth, N. H., and and wife of State Senator James F. Shaw of Boston, is expected to reopen her little moving picture theatre in Santa Barbara and continue business there in joint management with Chauffeur Marble.

Eldredge to Keep Boy.

As Brewer Eldredge, while in court at the time the question of the custody of the Shaw child was being decided, uttered several remarks indicating hostility to his son-in-law, there was belief in some quarters that when the old man gets back East he may refuse to turn the boy over to Shaw and thus precipitate another legal battle.

When Mrs. Shaw fled from Boston with the chauffeur she was anxious to keep up appearances, and on her arrival in California went to a quiet section of Pasadena, a suburb of Los Angeles, where she rented a house under her own name. Even after she joined Marble in Santa Barbara and assumed the name of "Mrs. Marble" there she kept the house in Pasadena, but as time passed she found it a confusing task to maintain the double role of Mrs. Shaw and Mrs. Marble, and for that reason she became known by both names in Pasadena.

But in Santa Barbara no hint of the woman's strange history was given until detectives in the employ of her husband found her there, after tracking her from Pasadena. As Shaw had hired the detectives to secure evidence to be used in a suit for divorce, considerable time was spent in watching Mrs. Shaw and Chauffeur Marble before the efforts were begun to wrest the Shaw child from the woman and her companion.

Loyal to Chauffeur.

Her father, who arrived the day before the case was decided, left no doubt of his loyalty to his daughter. After an affectionate greeting at the railroad depot in Los Angeles, the old man was constantly with Mrs. Shaw at Santa Barbara. He was anxious to take his daughter back to Portsmouth with him, and she could have made the long journey across the continent with her little son and her father had she desired, but she chose to remain near Chauffeur Marble.

Mrs. Shaw is a tall brunette, not far from forty, with well-rounded figure. She is fond of dress, her taste running to the gorgeous, and carries herself with a stately air. This bearing of proud disdain did not leave her for a moment even during the stormiest period of her recent exposure.

Her indifference to the opinions of others was shown when she remained calmly selling tickets at the moving picture theatre after the story of her elopement had attraced curious crowds to the place.

It was shown again when she came to Los Angeles to meet her father, so as to prevent detectives or others from pouring their tales into his ears before she had a chance to tell her side. Braving the stare of onlookers, she threw herself into his arms.

After she went with her father to Santa Barbara she did not take possession of her former humble quarters, but accompanied him to the most fashionable hotel in the place, where she resumed the aristocratic mode of life which had been interrupted by her flight from the East.

CONNOR EMPLOYES FORM ORGANIZATION

The employes of the John T. Connor Company, importing grocers at Nos. 68-70 Utica street, have formed a permanent organization, known as the John T. Connor Associates. Its object is to assist in the general management of the business, which has been on a co-operative basis since last February, each of the employes participating in the profits. Officers of the associates are: President, Nicholas Roche; vice-president, Frank C. Jones; treasurer, John T. Griffin; secretary, Miss A. T. Fagan; corresponding secretary, Miss M. Whalen; financial secretary, J. J. Devitt. The associates will hold a field day soon.

RACES 3,000 MILES TO DYING FIANCE

TRENTON, N. J., May 8.—To see her fiance before death calls him, Miss Minnie Martin, one of the prettiest girls of Trenton, is racing across the continent to-day on a special train. Dr. Neall Frank Robinson, Camden physician, whom Miss Martin was soon to wed, is lying dangerously ill at Monrovia, Cal. Miss Martin received a telegraph message that Dr. Robinson had not long to live, and her father ordered a special train, and with little preparation the girl started on the trip across the continent.

Good Things to Eat.

Prices of seasonable delicacies are somewhat easier to-day.

Southern asparagus can be bought for 20 to 30 cents, Jersey for 50 cents.

Sweet potatoes are selling at 6 cents a pound, new potatoes at 10 cents a quart, the latter price prevails for green peas and string beans, also.

Dandy dandelions are twenty cents a peck. Strawberries bring from 20 to 40 cents. The high priced ones are delicious looking.

Large, fresh mackerel, two and a half pounds, are 70 cents. Shad cost 50 cents, boiled lobsters 18 cents. The prices of meat are normal.

AT 84 HANGS SELF FOR LOVE

NEWBURYPORT, May 8—Because he was not allowed to see a woman whom he admired, Alexander L. Jackson, 84 years old, an inmate of the Home for Aged Men, committed suicide by hanging to-day. His body was found hanging by a rope attached to the framework of a newly constructed building. He had climbed to the first story by means of a stepladder, and fastening a rope about his feet, arms and about his neck, jumped off. When his body was discovered it was warm.

Recently Jackson had threatened to shoot himself, as the superintendent would not allow him to go and see a woman whom he greatly admired. He was a widower and left three sons.

NAMES A CHINAMAN AS ADMINISTRATOR

For the first time in the history of the Norfolk County Probate Court at Dedham a Chinaman was to-day appointed as administrator of a fellow countryman's estate, that of Lou Sing, who was found dead in his laundry on Grove street, East Milton. The administrator is Lou Tom, his brother, who keeps a laundry on Norfolk street Dorchester. Lou Sing left $961.25. He had a widow in Hongkong and three brothers.

EMPLOYES FLEE BY FIRE ESCAPE

Because of the dense smoke which went up through the building, twelve men and a woman had to take to the fire escapes at a blaze in the premises of the Outlet Bedding Company on the third floor of the five-story brick building, No. 164 Canal street to-day. The fire started from electric wires in contact with cotton waste, and did $300 damage. The building is owned by Thomas Butler.

HOLD BOYS FOUND HIDING IN STORE

Hiding with their heads buried in heaps of provisions, three South Boston boys were captured by the police last night in the grocery store of Abele Price at No. 225 Broadway, South Boston. The lads were Grover M. Marlborough, Michael Lee and William F. Lee. They were each held in $500 for the Grand Jury.

IF THESE LAWS PASS—Every woman will want to read this article in tomorrow's SUNDAY AMERICAN and see what might happen to her.

CLAIMS MAYOR GAVE HIM CASH

LOWELL, May 8—Charges that Mayor George Brown, the policeman mayor of Lowell, before his election promised a liquor license to George S. Dion, owner of a lunch cart, were made by Dion at a hearing of the Mayor's charges against the Police Board.

Dion said that he had received various sums of money in small amounts from the Mayor, which he regarded as money paid him for help given in the fall campaign and as payment for lunches which he had given supporters of the Mayor at that time.

He stated that Brown had told him to treat the men who were aiding the policeman candidate in a liberal manner.

Dion said that the Mayor had given him $1 one Sunday night and had told him to buy fruit with it, so that they could have some charges against the Police Board for allowing illegal sales on the Sabbath.

AUTO FOR POPE AMERICANS' GIFT

TURIN May 8.—A manufactory here has built for several Americans an automobile which will be presented by them to Pope Pius. It will be a handsome machine of from twenty to thirty horse power, and especially adapted for use within the Vatican gardens.

It will be elegantly equipped, being lined with white leather and having on the left side a gold medal of St. Joseph, the Pope's patron saint, and on the right a pocket, which will contain a richly bound breviary. The Pontifical arms will adorn the doors. The interior of the car will be lighted by electricity.

STRIKE CRISIS REACHED; PARIS EXPECTS CLASH

PARIS, May 8.—Both the government and the State employes, including the men of the department of posts and telegraphs, are to-day rapidly marshalling their forces for the impending struggle. A crisis has been reached. The city is described as standing over a volcano.

Premier Clemenceau is in constant communication with his colleagues and he had declared that he will resign a thousand times rather than make terms.

Troops and special police reserves were disposed to-day to guard the central post and telegraph station, the switch board machinery and the exposed lines leading to the provinces.

M. Barthou, the minister of public works, is of the opinion that a considerable proportion of the state employes will stick to their posts, and that with the aid of soldiers and the co-operation of the Chambers of Commerce and the Hotel Keepers' Association, who are organizing auxiliary forces, the public services will be maintained.

One hundred and fifty thousand carrier pigeons, trained for war service, have been placed at the disposal of the government.

The strike committee of the postal employes ridicule the measures adopted by the government and promise big surprises. It is understood that they do not intend to declare a strike until Tuseday, in order to give Parliament, which reassembles Monday, a chance to intervene.

Their manifestos which are couched in the phraseology of the revolution, reads as if they were martyrs to liberty.

COLLEGE BOYS GET THE HOOK

The college boys had their inning at the Columbia last evening, a pair of new candidates for one of the societies going through their initiation stunts and giving as ragged an imitation of an Indian war dance as was ever attempted.

The boys looked as if death would be a relief so weird and forlorn was the expression on their countenances, and to cap the climax they gave their college yell with as sickly a pair of lungs as ever breathed. But as dancing was their specialty it might be well to overlook their other "accomplishments."

But the hook got busy.

Peter Dooley was on hand with a new Irish aria and made good in the merriest fashion. Little Jerry McCarthy, the baseball mascot, had a song about getting the umpire's goat, and made a good impression.

Marie Brown, the girl with the operatic voice, was one of the big favorites of the evening and made a solid hit; Ethel Darling, one of the very best dancers that ever appeared on an amateur bill, was another whose work aroused the crowd to a wild pitch of enthusiasm.

ELECTIONS TO-DAY IN NEWFOUNDLAND

ST. JOHNS, N. F., May 8.—The most exciting general election campaign known in Newfoundland since responsible government was established came to an end last night.

Although balloting occurs to-day it is not expected that the outcome will be known until the latter part of next week.

A majority of electoral districts are remote from the railroads, and, as all the ballot boxes have to be brought to St. John's and the ballots officially counted here, it will likely be a week until the last district has been heard from.

If a landslide falls to the lot of either party it will undoubtedly be indicated in the early returns next Monday and Tuesday.

SAUGUS ASSESSOR GIVES PAY TO BOY

SAUGUS, May 8.—Ernest L. Noera, who a year ago, criticized the board of assessors for extravagance and accepted their challenge to run the affairs of the board at half the expense, has announced that he will receive no monetary remuneration from the town for his services as assessor, but will devote his pay of $100 to $150 to the education of some worthy boy, selected by the school officials.

BEETLE KILLS 400 ELMS IN CAMBRIDGE

There are more than 400 dead elm trees in various parts of Cambridge as the result of two years' ravages of the elm tree beetle.

In several localities the view presents whole rows of trees, apparently from 25 to 50 years of age, which show nothing but dead branches.

In regard to the matter Superintendent John F. Donnelly of the Park Department said: "We have not gone further with the work because we have no appropriation sufficient to cover it."

A Demonstration of the Lighting in Copley Square

Tonight at 7:45 and at 8:15

By permission of the City Authorities, the Edison Company has arranged to make a comparison between the Gilbert arc lamps, which have lighted Copley Square for a number of years and the General Electric flaming arc lamps just installed.

The Square is now lighted by three large flaming arc lamps, costing $468 per year. These lamps replace seven Gilbert arc lamps which have cost $828 per year.

At 7:45 p. m. and again at 8:15 p. m. the flaming arc lamps will be turned out for five minutes and the old Gilbert lamps lighted, so that the public may compare them.

Heretofore the plaza in Berlin, facing the Brandenburger Gate, which is equipped with electric, flaming arc lamps, has been considered the best lighted square in the world. It is celebrated throughout Europe.

Copley Square is now lighted at a greatly reduced cost, yet it has more than twice as much light as when the Gilbert lamps were used.

It is now better lighted than is Brandenburger Square in Berlin, and Boston's own Copley Square is now the best lighted square in the world.

RED SOX MEET HIGHLANDERS IN FINAL STRUGGLE

BOSTON AMERICAN SPORTS

DOVES AND GIANTS FOURTH CONTEST TODAY AT 3

TIGERS MEET YALE IN DUAL TRACK GAMES

PRINCETON, N. Y., May 8.—Princeton and Yale met on University field this afternoon in their annual track games. Last year at New Haven Yale won by the score of 73 to 31, but the teams this year appeared more evenly matched. Four members of the Tiger team, who were point winners last year, are still eligible, and besides the team has been strengthened by members of last year's freshmen team who are eligible this year.

Captain Gabble and Dawborne, the new sprinter whom Copeland has discovered, judging from the past, should both beat out Carry, Yale, for first two places in 100-yard dash.

Both high and low hurdles ought to prove exciting races between Durget of Princeton and Howe of Yale. It is expected that Whitcley will run Spitzer of Yale a very close race in the half-mile and mile. McGee will not be very far behind in either event.

Princeton's weakness seems to lie in the jump and weights, and Yale will in all probability receive the majority of points in these events.

The final result will be so close that it is impossible to predict which team will win, although Yale is considered a slight favorite. There is very little chance of any record being broken, because of the heavy condition of the track after last night's rain.

WORCESTER, May 8.—The city was stirred to-day over the Harvard-Holy Cross game. Both teams wanted the game and wanted it badly. "Jim" Dowd was selected to go to the rubber for Holy Cross, while Hicks looked like the Harvard choice. The bettors favored Harvard 5 to 3 and the money was eagerly gobbled by the local bloods.

Bleachers were stretched about the enclosure to accommodate a crowd of 15,000.

Nearly everybody in Boston reads the AMERICAN.

BASEBALL NEWS AND NOTES

The Pirates are showing up well in base stealing. Tommy Leach promises to purloin more cushions than he did in any previous year of his big league career. The little star will take more chances now that he is playing in the outfield.

* * *

Stallings has let Demmitt go to the minors. One remembers the big story in a New York paper in which Stallings was quoted as saying that Demmitt was another Cobb.

* * *

O'Hara, the Giants' new centre fielder, played with the Baltimore Eastern league team. He is the best of the big crop of young outfielders that McGraw had down at Marlin.

* * *

Arthur Hillebrand, the former Princeton pitcher, has asked Frank Farrell for his release, but the latter suggested that he buy it. Hillebrand has never played a game in the major league, although he has been the property of teams in the American for several years.

* * *

Joe Myers, the Giants' Indian catcher, has a herculean build. Not until the grounds are fast and the players keyed up to pennant pitch will his real worth as a backstop be known.

* * *

Joe Corbett, pitching for San Francisco against Los Angeles recently, held his opponents to six hits and one run and struck out six of the opposing batsmen. Joe is still in the game, evidently.

* * *

Jouett Meekin, who helped Amos Rusie win the Temple cup for the Giants in 1894, is managing the Jeffersonville (Ind.) team this season. It is a coincidence that Rusie, his old mate, is also living in a small Indiana town.

* * *

Jake Beckley has played in but four games in the American association, but in those games he has annexed a batting average of .500. Jake has been 16 times at bat, secured eight hits, including a double, and has scored three times.

* * *

Frank Roth, the Reds' catcher, wishes he could get some work. He says sitting on the bench causes him to put on weight.

* * *

George Stone has been walloping the ball for St. Louis this season and may again be a factor in the batting championship.

* * *

Ancient Fred Tenney springs around the first base zone with the elasticity he displayed when he was a Brown University favorite.

* * *

The ball scores on the fast trains have made quite a hit and now the frenzied fan can travel with true pleasure.

* * *

Jimmy Collins recently lost his seven months' old daughter.

* * *

Charley Chech thus far this season has been in the box four times and has won four games. With Cleveland in 1908 he pitched 18 games, winning 11 and losing 7. He was taken out of four games.

* * *

Washington was first in war and first in peace and the city that bears his name refuses to be anything but last in the American league race, which is [illegible] [illegible], but still mighty effective, and unless there is a big brace somewhere it promises to go for all season.

* * *

Tommy Tucker, once the star first baseman of the Boston club, and later a Cleveland Misfit, is not ashamed to see in print that he has not seen a major league game since his retirement eight years ago. Evidently he played ball purely for the money and not for the love of it, like Stricker, Gleason and countless others of the old guard.

* * *

The Phillies and Detroit, which are leading the major leagues, don't run much to "spit-ball" artists. Is there a moral in this for other managers?

* * *

Connie Mack is against the "spitters." From the frequency with which he is working Schlitzer and Dygert, Connie must be using them as horrible examples.

* * *

Old Cy Young is still some youngster. He put it on the White Sox. He allowed only four hits, while his team was totalling thirteen, of which the old fellow made one.

* * *

Hans Wagner still seems to insist that the Cubs shall not win the National league pennant race. He caused the Pirates to win their fourth straight victory against the Chance organization. Hans scored three runs, got five hits out of six times up, had a [illegible] and one [illegible].

* * *

Though he got a poor start with his Minneapolis club Jimmy Collins thinks he has a winner.

* * *

"Who will volunteer to stop the Tigers?" asked an exchange. "I will!" exclaimed one "Rube" Waddell, and St. Louis beat Detroit by 4 to 2.

* * *

This time last year the Detroits were away down in the running and the fans of that sporting town were hollering their heads off for the management to get rid of Hughey Jennings. Now the Tigers are leading the procession, and Jennings is the best in the game.

MATT BALDWIN HAS TOUGH JOB

NEW YORK, May 8.—To-night is the big noise in the borough of Queens, for Matty Baldwin, the clever and shifty featherweight of Boston, and Charley Griffin, the featherweight champion of Australia, are scheduled to meet for ten rounds in the star event before the East Avenue Athletic Club, East Avenue and Eighth street, Long Island City. This will be their second meeting, they having fought one of the hardest six-round battles ever witnessed last year.

CORBETT MAY FIGHT BRITT

NEW YORK, May 8.—Young Corbett, in a reply to Jimmy Kelly's statement that he is ungrateful, says that he has fought Keyes twice and thinks that is sufficient for the present, at least, and now he has his eyes cast westward.

Corbett has received a wire from Jimmy Coffroth, which states that he will put Corbett on with Jimmy Britt in July if Corbett is not beaten in the meantime. Coffroth offers a $50,000 purse for the fight, and Corbett has accepted it.

Notes of the Doves' Game

And that was SOME game game.

* * *

It looked like extra innings for a while, and then it looked like a Giant victory, but last and best, it looked and still looks like a Dove victory.

* * *

"I love all those Doves, but O you Sweeney"—this from the optimistic fan.

* * *

Who won the game, (all in chorus), "Peaches."

* * *

There hasn't been a prettier play pulled off in Boston this season than that squeeze play in the ninth round.

* * *

Some class to those Dove youngsters.

* * *

Not one of the New York players or one of the 3000 fans expected any play like Big Mike told Graham and Sweeney to pull off in the eighth when the Doves won the game.

* * *

Big Chief Meyers tipped a foul, and it caught Big Mike on the finger. The Indian then struck out.

* * *

Billy Sweeney's nice single went to waste in the third inning, for the next three Doves were easy outs.

* * *

The Giants pulled off a fast double play in the fourth inning. Bates rapped one that looked good for a base or two, but Bridwell speared it and doubled Becker off first.

* * *

Whether it was done to keep warm or to rile Mr. Johnstone, umpire, is not known, but the Giants did a war dance around the bats and gave an Indian war whoop. The latter was not very blood-curling, but it was good enough.

* * *

That double of Bill Sweeney's came just at the right time.

* * *

Gus Dorner was one large mystery to the New York batters. He very grudgingly separated himself from four safeties.

* * *

Devlin made an awful bluff in the sixth round that he was hit, but as usual it got him nothing.

* * *

The Rube struck out six Doves, while Dorner retired four Giants via the strike-out route.

* * *

Tenney drew free passes three times out of five times to the plate. Bridwell strolled twice out of four times up.

* * *

The first runs made by each team were results of bases on balls. Tenney walked and scored on a single by Murray. Dahlen, for the Doves, was the recipient of free transportation to the first sack, and came romping home on "Old Reliable" Bill Sweeney's great wallop.

* * *

That little red headed left fielder, Murray, is a mighty useful being to have hanging around, for he can hit in pinches in true big league style. He got the needed single in the sixth frame which enabled Tenney to score.

* * *

The plans of a fan fell through or there might have been some fine enjoyment at the expense of the $11,000 beauty, Rube Marquard. This fan watched the Rube perform in the American Association and learned there that all that is needed to get Marquard's goat is to drop a lemon out onto the field. The bug planned to get a few of the precious fruit and present them to Marquard during the contest. Somehow the plans miscarried an in place of lemons Marquard got "Peaches," (Graham), in the last inning.

* * *

Bill Dahlen had a bad session in the fifth, for he made two errors in rapid-fire order. The fans forgave him when he came home with the first run.

* * *

After "Peaches" Graham batted for Gus Dorner in the eighth inning, thus putting Dorner out of the game, Mattern went in to pitch for the Doves. The one inning he pitched he sent them down one, two, three.

* * *

Overcoats were again in demand, for although Old Sol performed nicely, there was a chilly tang to the air.

* * *

Catcher Meyers had more put outs to his credit than did first baseman Tenney. That doesn't happen very often.

* * *

The fans who catch or attempt to catch fouls that fall into the stand are always cheered on, getting the compliment, "Wonderful, wonderful," by another bug who sits in the very front of the stand.

CHAUFFEUR STRANG NEAR DEATH IN RACE

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., May 8.—Within a hundred feet of where Emil Stricker, his partner, was dashed to death in a twenty-four-hour automobile race last Fall, Lewis Strang narrowly escaped a fatal accident in the automobile race meet. Strang had the race well in hand in the fifty-second mile of the 100-mile event, but as he rounded the curve where Stricker was killed the rim of the right front wheel of his machine ran off, hurling the machine into the fence. Strang suffered only severe bruises.

COLUMBIA BALL TEAM WANTS CONTESTS

With a team composed of some of the best amateur and semi-professional talent the Columbia Theatre nine is anxious to face any of the theatre teams in the city and is also willing to meet any of the teams of the newspaper league.

The Columbia nine has in "Mike" Reagan one of the best college pitchers; Billy Steele was one time considering an offer to play with the Fall Rivers of the New England League. The lineup: Fowler, c.; Reagan, p.; Rosenberg, 1b.; Steele, 2b.; Sandy, 3b.; Harris s. s.; Van, l. f.; Cahill, c. f.; Moynihan, r. f. Dates can be arranged by communicating with Capt. Billy Steele at the Columbia.

REDS' PROTEST IS OF NO AVAIL

CINCINNATI, May 8.—Acting President Heydler of the National Baseball League has notified President Hermann of the Cincinnati team that the game protested by the Cincinnati club at Pittsburg, about two weeks ago, would stand as decided by the score. Mr. Heydler contends that the umpire's judgment was supreme in the matter of declaring Wagner out or not for jumping from one side of the plate to the other. Mr. Herrmann will appeal from the decision.

RICH AUTO SPEEDER FLAYED BY JUDGE

NEW HAVEN, May 8.—From the bench, Police Court Judge Richard Tyner heavily scored Frederick Dayton, a wealthy young clubman, who was brought before him charged with reckless automobiling. He said: "I have known this young man for years, and from what I know of him, he should not be allowed to drink at all. It is a serious thing to run an automobile through the streets when intoxicated. It seems to me that when you get to drinking you lose your head entirely. Either your brain is too small or else something else is the matter with you. If you do not stop drinking you will find yourself in a worse place than the Police Court." Judge Tyner fined Dayton $100.

RAYMOND FRACTURES BALL TRADITIONS

"Bugs" Raymond is surely the wonder of baseball. There is no tradition attached to the national game he has not broken into a million pieces a hundred times. He smashes rules as well as records and still keeps right on going higher and higher, when men who take good care of themselves and are free from eccentricities get left at the post.

John McGraw is said to be highly elated over the showing Raymond made during the Spring practice and has adopted him in a way.

During the weeks of training at Marlin Springs there was a standing order that any man who gave Raymond even so much as an inhale from a cigarette would be fined $5.

A whiff from a cigarette is said to make "Bugs" as loco as a wild coyote, and McGraw was not going to have him chasing prairie dogs over the plains of the Lone Star State.

The pitcher was not given any money while in Texas. McGraw paid his bills, holding him down to the limit in everything. The only money Raymond had while at Marlin Springs was what he made playing monte with a one-eyed Mexican. Then he only won when he managed to get the cards on the blind side of his antagonist.

WHY MISS SEARS WANTS TO WEAR 'EM—Tomorrow's SUNDAY AMERICAN contains an interesting discussion of an unusual topic.

SPITZER MAY MAKE NEW COLLEGE RECORD

NEW HAVEN, May 8.—In Spitzer, the Yale cross-country runner, Johnnie Mack, the Eli trainer, believes he has a man who will make athletic history in the dual and intercollegiate meets. Spitzer is a half-miler, who, on the last two-mile race at the Pennsylvania relay games, covered his 880 yards in 1 minute 56 4-5 seconds. Mack expects to see Spitzer annex the intercollegiate record for the half at the coming intercollegiate meet. It is at present 1:56, and is held by E. B. Parsons of Yale, who made the record in Philadelphia in 1905.

Parsons, in the big meet of 1904, equalled the time made by Spitzer last Saturday. The only other runner to do the half in less than 1:57 at the intercolegiates in Hollister, of Harvard, who in 1896 cut a fifth of a second under.

CUBS CLAIM A PITCHER.

The Chicago National League club has claimed Pitcher D. C. Ragen of the Cincinnati team, on whose services waivers were asked by Manager Griffith five days ago. Ragen last season was the star twirler of the Western League, winning twenty-nine and losing seven games for Omaha. His release will cost the Chicago Cubs $1,000, which is the amount Cincinnati paid Omaha for him last Fall.

LAD A WONDER WITH HAMMER

WORCESTER, May 8.—Coach J. Fred Powers of the Worcester Academy track team has unearthed a wonder in Damon Howard, an eighteen-year-old student of the Union Hill School. Yesterday he threw the twelve-pound hammer through a board fence bordering the athletic field. It was found exactly 198 feet from the circle where the throw was started. Where would the hammer have gone had not the fence stopped it and took the "life" out of the wonderful heave?

The record throw for the distance, 205 feet 10¾ inches, was made by Lee J. Talbot, the Mercersburg star, two years ago. In his daily practice Howard, who is a Boston lad, has made between 180 and 190 feet on the average throw.

SIEGFRIED THROWS ROGERS.

KANSAS CITY, May 8.—Ernest Siegfried, the "German Oak," defeated Joe Rogers of New York, catch-as-catch-can, in straight falls. The time of the first fall was 1h. 17m. 50s., but the second took only sixteen minutes.

HARVARD IS FAVORITE IN TRACK MEET

Harvard ruled strong favorite in the big track meet to be held this afternoon at the Stadium, although the Dartmouth team appears fit and ready, and its supporters figure it is able to take excellent care of the college honors.

The Dartmouth team, twenty-five strong, reached Boston last night and was quartered at the Copley Square Hotel. The athletics spend a good portion of the morning visiting with the New York baseball team, which is also at the hotel, and several of the Giants who are not likely to be called into the game to-day, will watch the school men compete.

Dr. Bowler, the coach of Dartmouth, says his men are in fine condition and while he does not appear optimistic of winning the meet, is sanguine that his athletes will perform creditable.

The Harvard men are confident of carrying off the honors, although anything like a line on the work of the Dartmouth contestants is missing.

NELSON GETS JOLT FROM COLMA CLUB

CHICAGO, May 8.—Battling Nelson will fight Packy McFarland July 5 or he will not meet any one at the Colma Club on that date. This is the decree of James W. Coffroth.

Nelson wired from Denver that he had Coffroth's permission to take on Thompson in place of McFarland for the rich July holiday date and meet McFarland September 9.

The scheme evidently made so much of a hit with the champion that he interviewed himself in place of Coffroth and announced that a go between himself and Thompson was on.

Coffroth evidently has not concurred with Nelson in the matter at all. For an inquiry as to his plans for settling the lightweight championship brought the following reply by wire:

> I have no agreement with Nelson for Thompson. He signed for July 5 with McFarland, and I look for him to live up to his contract. He has wired me to substitute Thompson July 5 and he would take on McFarland September 9. I replied that my arrangements had been made for McFarland match July 5 and I could not change them. If he does not keep his contract I will ask Ketchel to bix the winner of Papke and Kelly or O'Brien or Langham on that date.
> (Signed) JAMES W. COFFROTH.

Nelson is now on his way to San Francisco to finish his training for Dick Hyland, whom he meets May 29. He will meet Coffroth to-morrow and probably will agree to keep his date with McFarland after the dean of promoters gets through laying down the law to him.

PENN HAS FAST YOUNG MILER

Young Mr. Paull, the phenomenal one and two-mile runner of the University of Pennsylvania, is just starting, and already he is running these two distances in time that is only a shade slower than the best American records. And it must be remembered, too, that he has been taking it easy right along without that added speed which a contest puts into a really good runner. What he will do when the weather gets a little warmer and he is more seasoned, and what he will do with another year under the careful direction of Mike Murphy, is left to the imagination.

So easily does this youngster run that he never seems tired. He finishes fresh and with power to spare. It may seem a wild idea, but Paull looks strong enough to run a mile in fast time and then repeat in a two-mile event ayter a short rest. While iMke Murphy will not tell just how fast he has clocked Paull this Spring, it is whispered out at Penn that he has several times slipped around the mile under 4:20. tI would be a remarkable feat, and yet under the circumstances not so very surprising, if Trainer Murphy doubled Paull in the one and two miles in the intercollegiates on May 29, and that the Quaker won both events at that. When Haskins doubled in the mile and half mile in 1907 he won and surprised the critics.

PHILA. PITCHER WINS CUP FOR BATTING

Foxen, the Phillies' pitcher, has upset the dope that a pitcher can't hit. He also had the laugh on his teammates.

Down in the city of brotherly love, a certain "Billy" Grady has been in the habit of offering a loving cup to each Philly that makes a home run on the home grounds. He was forced to give the cup to the man that did the most timely batting the last two seasons because none of them got home runs on the home diamond.

The rivalry for that cup was keen when the 1909 race began. Foxen didn't say much, so when he cracked out a hit good for the circuit his hard-hitting teammates almost had heart failure.

Another cup has been offered for the next homer.

TORONTO MARATHON PROMOTERS AT ODDS

TORONTO, Ont., May 8.—War between Tom Flanagan and his Scarboro Beach Park and J. J. McCaffery and the Island Park was declared when Tom Flanagan announced that Tom Longboat and Alfred Shrubb would run 20 miles at Scarboro Beach the night of May 24.

McCaffery came back with an announcement that he will run a Marathon between St. Yves and whoever wins Saturday's race. If the Frenchman wins Saturday, another opponent will be selected. P. T. Powers is behind McCaffery.

TOM FOLEY DRAWS WITH CUNNINGHAM.

LEWISTON, Me., May 8—The bout between Tom Foley of Boston and Mike Cunningham of Lewiston was about an even thing. The men fought six lively rounds, but neither man was able to obtain any advantage. The Boston boy showed up strong and at times gave and took punishment, and also returned the same.

PHILADELPHIA, May 8.—Buck "Twin" Miller of Boston was shaded by Johnny Allen of this city at the Nonpareil A. C. in six rounds.

* * *

MEMPHIS, May 8—Tommy Devlin of Philadelphia was more than a match for Danny Goodman of Chicago in eight rounds, but Referee Jack Redmond surprised the crowd by anouncing a draw.

Phil Brock of Cleveland should change his name to Paving Block. He can hit that hard.

* * *

Harry Lewis, who still claims the welterweight championship title, will meet Christy Williams, the colored fighter, for twelve rounds before the Unity A. C. of Lawrence, Mass., on May 13. They will box at 145 pounds, which is at the ringside. Lewis ought to beat Williams quite handily.

* * *

The proposed ten-round bout between "Young Corbett" and Phil Brock, the Cleveland lightweight, will most likely be arranged. The men have practically agreed on the weight terms for the battle, which was the only thing that stood in the way of the match. They will battle at the Rotterdam A. C. of Schenectady, N. Y., on May 17.

* * *

Harry Lewis has called off negotiations with a Paris promoter, the terms offered not being acceptable. Lewis said that he had decided to remain at home this month in the hope of getting matches with Frank Klaus and Tommy Sullivan, and that he would sail for France early in June and take chances of getting some bouts over there.

At a special session of the Tennessee Legislature a law was passed providing that each boxing club in the State put up $900 for a license. It is believed that the law will "freeze out" a number of the smaller clubs. The new fight law carried no license requirement. The money derived from the license will be split equally among the city, county and State.

* * *

"Honey" Mallody will meet Willie Lewis in a twenty-round bout at the Cirque de Paris this evening. Of recent days Sam McVey and Joe Jeannette, the big colored boxers, have been holding the spot light.

* * *

Sam Langford may revive interest in the colored sparrers in England in case he beats Ian Hague. The latter learned much of his boxing ability on board the battleship Indomitable. "Gunner" Moir also picked up most of his knowledge of the game in the service. Hague beat Moir easily and is now champion of England.

* * *

Mike Grady, who has transferred his address to Southbridge, is willing to meet all comers at 122-128 pounds, barring nobody.

* * *

Al Greenwood, the English fighter, is in Boston and will shortly appear in some big bouts.

* * *

Bartly Connolly of Portland, who recently returned to these shores after conquering a lot of top English fighters, wants to get active again, and will meet any welterweight.

* * *

Manager Edwards of the National A. C. of Philadelphia, which holds the Johnson-O'Brien fight this week, had a request for tickets by cable from the other side.

* * *

Abe Attell may fight the Toronto featherweight, Jimmy Bell, some time in July, as, negotiations are under way for the match.

TAFT WILL WITNESS BIG SONDER RACES

President Taft has signified his intention of witnessing the international yacht races between American and German boats to be sailed off Marblehead the first week in September.

The President's newly selected Summer home at Beverly is in sight of Marblehead harbor, and only three miles from the starting point of the races. He will go out to the course on the Mayflower.

These races are between boats of the sonder class, a special class built under German rating rules, and first introduced here in the German-American match of 1906. A similar match was sailed in 1907 at Kiel.

These matches are under the joint direction of the Eastern Yacht Club on behalf of the American boats entered, and the Kaiserlicher Yacht Club, of which the German Emperor in the head, on behalf of the German boats. Three boats on a side compete.

The grand prize this year, given by the Eastern Club, is to be known as the President Taft cup. This is with the President's consent, and in accordance with the wishes of the German yachtsmen who in the races of 1907 had as a prize a cup given by the Kaiser. The cup in 1906 was known as the Roosevelt cup.

TESTIMONIAL FOR BOXING FAVORITE

"Tom" Coffey, an old time favorite in boxing and wrestling is to be given a testimonial in Lyceum Hall, East Boston, Wednesday evening next, the proceeds of which it is expected will be sufficient to defray the expenses of Coffey to the Hot Springs. He has just come from the City Hospital, where for months he has been under treatment for rheumatism. The testimonial is the idea of friends, who, as well as desiring to help a friend now in need, recall that for years in Boston at benefits and testimonials for any worthy object the services of "Tom" Coffey were always freely given.

Bob Crowley of Lee, N. H., has located at the Dover track with two fast green pacers by Nelson, 2:09.

Lake Queen, 2:08¼, has been bred to the Bingen stallion Earl of Chatham, owned by the Connecticut River Farm, in Hatfield.

Northern Spy, 2:13¾, has been sent to the Dover track, where he will be conditioned for his Grand Circuit engagements.

F. A. Amidon of Worcester intends breeding his pacing mare Megaphone, 2:14¼, to Audubon Boy, 1:59¼, and will then matinee her.

Vesta Boy, 2:05¼, that raced so successfully over the New England tracks last year, has been sent to Harry Brusle, at Charter Oak Park, to be prepared and campaigned.

They are counting in Worcester that the trotting gelding Alcy, 2:13¼, will make the rest in his matinee classes at the fun races of the Speedway Club this year hustle to beat him to the wire.

The races at Hillsgrove will be on May 29, to permit the members of the Jonathan Club to take part in the programme offered May 31 by the Pawtucket Driving Club over their home track.

Walter Bates of Dorchester is receiving favorable reports regarding the three-year-old pacing filly Miss Eva Wilkes that Lon McDonald has at Memphis. She has been miles this Spring in 2:30, with a quarter in 33¾ seconds.

Handicap racing will be a feature at Worcester in the Memorial day card of the Speedway Club. The result of this plan is watched with great interest, though in the handicap event decided there last Fall the finish was particularly exciting.

L. Merrill of Augusta, Me., has accepted the defi of Frank Hayden to match El Galo, 2:16¼, against Silk Patchen, 2:13¼, and Lou Foster, 3:13¼, for $500 a corner, winner take all. He says that his $500 to back Silk Pitchen is ready at any time.

H. H. Lee, who drove the pacing mare, Trixy S., 2:16¼, in several of her races over the Maine tracks, declares that Dick Lawrence, who recently bought the pacing mare, will give her a record of 2:12 over a half-mile track, or one of 2:06 if he takes her to the mile track races.

HERE IS THE COSTLIEST NINE ON BALL FIELD

The plutocrat ball team of the American League, it is declared by a magnate, would be about as follows: Pitchers, Donovan of Detroit, Joss of Cleveland, and Walsh of Chicago, each drawing about $5,000. The catchers would be Sullivan of Chicago, and Criger of St. Louis, each pulling down about $4,500. Charles Schmidt, the Detroit catcher, refused to sign this season at that figure. Hal Chase of the Highlanders, leads the first basemen with a pay envelope of $4,500. Lajoie, of course, leads the second sackers, with is $7,500. Bobby Wallace of the St. Louis Browns, drew $6,500 for three years during baseball war times, and gets close to that figure now. Bill Bradley, the Cleveland third sacker, leads the players of that position with a salary of between $4,500 and $5,000.

Cobb, of course, tops the outfielders, with his $5,000 salary at the age of 22. Sam Crawford, the great slugging centre fielder of the Tigers, is the best paid player in that position this season, drawing close to $5,000. Matty McIntyre of the Tigers, and George Stone of the St. Louis Browns, vie with each other, for the honor among the left fielders, each drawing about $4,500.

In the National League both Manager Frank Chance of the Cubs and Manager John J. McGraw of the New York Giants are reputed to be drawing $10,000 salaries this year. Chance drew $7,500 last year. Five of the world's champion Cubs drew between $4,500 and $5,000, as follows: King, Tinker, Evers, Overall and Brown. Christy Mathewson, the star pitcher of the Giants, draws $6,000, and Mike Donlin about $4,500. Leach, third sacker of the Pittsburg club, draws $5,000. Lobert, the star third-sacker of the Cincinnati Reds, pulls down only $4,000.

JEFF TO START BIG RACE.

Big Jim Jeffries will lend his imposing presence to the games of the Monument A. C., to be held at Celtic Park, in Long Island City, to-morrow. The retired champion, who may some day fight the oily Jack Johnson for the world's title, will act as starter for the two feature races at the games, having obtained the gracious consent of his theatrical manager, William Morris.

Jim will fire the pistol that will send Harry Hillman and Mel Sheppard away for a heart-breaking race of 600 yards, and he will start the modified Marathon of fifteen miles. A splendid entry has been received for the meeting, and, with a fair day, performances of championship calibre can be anticipated.

FRAYNE SHOWS WELL IN BOUT WITH WELSH

NEW YORK, May 8.—In one of the fastest and most exciting bouts ever held at the Fairmont A. C. in this city, Freddie Welsh of England outpointed Johnny Frayne, California's clever lightweight, in ten rounds, but the latter surprised everybody by his showing.

In the eighth and ninth Frayne had Welsh hanging on from uppercuts to the wind and the crowd, most of the time, was standing on its feet yelling at him to finish the Englishman.

Welsh, however, by exceptionally clever evasive work, managed to keep away from swings that would have put an end to his career had they landed and in the tenth outboxed and outfought Frayne to a finish.

Frayne, in the last round, was completely outclassed but the crowd cheered him loudly as he left the ring in appreciation of his work in the other rounds.

It took Frayne five rounds to get up steam, as he showed but little fighting ability up to that time. In that round he began playing for the body and Welsh winced, and ducked, and ran away continually to avoid the slashing rights into his midriff.

The stomach seemed to be Welch's sensitive spot, and when Frayne realized this he practically abandoned further attempts to reach the Briton's well covered jaw.

Welsh played continually for the head and some of his blows on the jaw caused Frayne to back up. But Welsh didn't have a knockout punch in either hand, and Frayne, seeming to know this, made rushes a la Battling Nelson, taking blows regardless of consequences so long as he could land one.

MESMIC BESTS PICATO.

LOS ANGELES, Cal., May 8—By outboxing and outslugging his opponent, George Mesmic to-night earned a 10-round decision over Frank Picato in the ring of the Pacific A. C. at Nand Junction. The bout was comparatively tame and uninteresting. Neither man scored a knockdown and there was a total absence of the spectacular work which featured the former Mesmic-Picato battle.

THE NEW IDEAL OF A WIFE

"All that a modern man insists on is that a woman shall be nice looking and neat"

By DOROTHY DIX

I HAVE often contended in this column that there is a new man as well as a new woman, and that man's ideal of what he admires in woman has changed so much that the youth of to-day would no more be satisfied with the kind of wife that his grandfather chose than he would be with his grandfather's coat. Times have altered, and tastes with them.

An interesting confirmation of this theory is offered by an experiment that a Chicago preacher has just made to find out from men what are the exact specifications they demand in their wives. Circulars were sent out containing eleven questions that were a veritable Cupid's catechism. Hundreds of replies were received from men all over the country, and the consensus of opinion they contained as to the masculine ideal of a perfect wife was nothing short of revolutionary.

The general belief has always prevailed, for instance, that man's first demand was that a woman should be beautiful, then that she should be a good cook, then that she should be a clinging vine that could give a limp dishrag points on adhesiveness, and finally that she should be as domestic as the house cat, and avoid even the suspicion of being "new" if she ever expected to catch a husband.

Men Have Entirely New Ideals

It appears that those who have preached this doctrine of woman's charms for man so long have been false prophets. At any rate, if those qualities were ever men's ideals, they are so no longer, if one may judge by the answers that the Chicago preacher received to his queries as to what qualities men prefer in women.

According to these answers, the modern man is not set on female pulchritude, or rather he does not make an especial point of it. All that he insists upon is that a young woman shall be nice looking and neat. Neither does he care particularly whether she is an expert cook or not, as he takes the broad ground that any woman with ordinary intelligence can learn how to bake and stew and roast and boil if she gives her mind to it.

As for the clinging vine, he simply will have none of her, and almost every reply expressed a preference for the woman who is independent, and could run her end of the domestic machinery without calling for help.

The men also showed a decided approval of the new woman in place of the old, and many of them said that they wanted their wives to be interested in clubs, and politics, and questions of the day.

In a word, they wanted to marry women who would be intelligent companions instead of domestic servants or doll babies.

Another interesting point brought out in these replies is that the men nearly all laid great stress upon a woman's disposition. All of the men wanted a wife who was good tempered, and most of them avoided a yearning for one who was also jolly and lively in disposition.

College Girl Is Tabooed

BUT—and mark this well, for it is significant—they put the taboo upon the college graduate and the girl who was "too stylish."

It seems to me that these letters come about as near to furnishing a working diagram of what men really like in women as we are ever apt to get. The average man is not really the slave to beauty that we imagine, as is evidenced by the fact that so many plain featured girls make good marriages, but every man admires neatness and trimness in woman and is repulsed by slovenliness. Men also like independence in women, and are bored stiff by one who does not keep sufficiently up with the times to hold her end of the conversation and make it interesting.

Likewise they are willing to risk their digestion on a girl's housekeeping, and to put up with it, even if it never deserves a blue ribbon, as long as she makes the kind of a wife who doesn't hold a stop watch on her husband and meet him with a curtain lecture if he comes home a little late.

It is also true that unless a man is a college graduate himself he fights shy of the woman who can write A. B., A. M., Pa. D., after her name. Few men have the grace to enjoy superior wives, or ones who know more than they do. A man wants his wife to look up to him instead of down upon him, and therefore the man who had to go to work as soon as he was out of the public school is very seldom going to pick out a college bred woman for a wife.

The happy family is not one in which the wife sits up and reads Marcus Aurelius in the original while the husband reads the baseball score in the evening paper, and it saves divorce for men to recognize it in time.

Wants Wife to Look Up to Him

Therefore, until conditions can be so changed in this country that more boys will be sent to college and fewer to offices and stores, the matrimonial stock of the highly educated woman will always be below par, with few takers.

If men fight shy of the college girl they are also equally afraid of the girl who dresses too expensively and fashionably. A sensible man takes a good long look and many thinks before he asks a living fashion plate to marry him. He wonders how any young fellow who has got his own way to make in the world is ever going to get the money together to pay for all these furbelows and frills; and when he has a vision of himself growing old and hump-shouldered in a vain effort to pay for peach-basket hats and imported gowns he decides to pass up the overstylish girl in favor of one who looks as if she could make her own clothes at a pinch, and survive if she didn't have on the latest millinery freak.

No girl ever makes a bigger mistake than when she thinks she can captivate a man by the splendor of her toilet. Men admire women's fine clothing only when they know that somebody else has got to pay the bills for them.

This point is especially commended to the consideration of women, who will find much food for thought in analyzing man's new ideal for woman, as revealed by the Chicago pastor's investigation.

The New Commandment

By ELLA WHEELER WILCOX

"Let Go the Cross"—Gertrude Runshon

I HEARD a strange voice in the distance calling
As from a star an echo might be falling.

It spoke four syllables, concise and brief,
Charged with a God-sent message of relief:

Let go the cross! Oh, you who cling to sorrow,
Hark to the new command and comfort borrow.

Even as the Master left His cross below
And rose to Paradise, let go, let go.

Forget your wrongs, your troubles and your losses,
For with the tools of thought we build our crosses.

Forget your griefs, all grudges and all fear
And enter Paradise—its gates are near.

Heaven is a realm by loving souls created,
And hell was fashioned by the hearts that hated

Love, hope and trust; believe all joys are yours;
Life pays the soul whose confidence endures.

The blows of adverse fate by larger pleasures,
As after storms the soil yields fuller measures

Let go the cross; roll self—the stone—away
And dwell with Love in Paradise to-day.

Too Much Style Painful

But You Must Suffer and Smile as if You Liked It

By KENNETT HARRIS

"WHEN I get to be a person of affluential finances extendin' beyond a season's pay, there ain't goin' to be no dog too heavy for me to sling," said Perry Jordan of the Chopping Block. "I'm cut out for frills myself; jest naturally take to 'em."

"You look more like a Piute to me," said the stocktender. "All you need is a feather in your hat and an empty beadwork whiskey flask in your hip pocket, an' they'd haze you back to the reservation on sight. But there's nothin' to this gilded luxury game. It's skin from the first rattle out of the box. You may think style comes natural to you, but it don't. You've got to be raised East to enjoy it."

"I'd as lief sleep between sheets as not," Perry persisted. "I'd wear a plug hat if I had the other fixin's to go with it."

"You're like Bill Conger, you are," said the stocktender. "He was raised in a log cabin, where they had three beds for a family of twelve an' whoever happened along an' wanted to stop over night.

Bill Had the Same Notion

"There wasn't a cook stove within a hundred miles of his folks, an' the clo'es they wore come from the sheep they herded; and yet that boy wanted to eat with silver plate knives an' forks an' put in nigh all of the spare time when he was to the ranch pickin' out things out o' Gummery Wood's mail order catalogue.

"I don't think I'll get rich punchin' the frisky bovine for the Chopping Block," said Perry, "but I might get enough ahead for a stake to play a system I've got."

"Bill had a system," said the stock-tender. "His was to put all his wages into an old sock an' buy a cow or two here an' rustle a calf or two there, until he got a considerable of a bunch on the range, not to speak of his reserve fund. He wasn't one o' these yer small-souled tightwads, neither.

"'An' I'm shore a-goin' to have style,' he says to me. 'Inside of a year I'll have the fanciest little shack in this man's country, an' inside o' that dom-my-sile there's a-goin' to be Brussels carpets an' mahogany finish furniture an' high-toned pictures an' a parlor organ.'

"Well, I watched him, anyway," said the stocktender. "First thing he done was to take up a claim on Gee String near Hay Canon an' him an' a couple of men he hired went up into the hills an' got out house logs. Sure enough, it wasn't long afore they had a Jim-dandy of a little home.

"Nex' thing, Bill an' one o' his men takes a six-yoke bull team an' a trail wagon an' makes a trip to Prouty, returnin' with all kinds of varnished chair legs an' brass knobs stickin' out from under the tarpoleons. Followin' that, Bill attires himself in a sure-enough Prince Albert coat an' a white vest an' yaller gloves an' boots with genuine morocco leather tops."

Had All the Trimmings

"With them splendors he gets into a brand new shiny buggy an' drives over to Lodge Pole, where he unites himself to a young female woman of elegant appearance an' then drives back in company with the aforesaid to the new house.

"Was it stylish! Well, I'd tell a man. He had everything he talked of getting—the Brussels carpet, the parlor organ, the pictures an' the mahogany finish furniture, an' then there was blue plush albums an' a bull bookcase full o' books in fancy bindings, an' there was a base-burner stove.

"That's the way I aim to have things," said Perry.

"You fog over to Gee String an' have a talk with Bill first," said the stock-tender. "About two months after I was over to Bill's, he returned the call an' I noticed that he got up an' walked the hull len'th of the bunk room an' opened the door to spit. He said it was the force o' habit.

"'Well, I reckon you're happy now, Bill.'

But He Wasn't Happy

"Bill groaned: 'I've got a settin' room that's too fine to set in an' books that's too han'some to handle an' chairs that's liable to get their stuffin' out o' shape if you put your weight on 'em, an' I've got lace curtains that can't stand tobacker smoke, an' I've got a wife that won't let me wear my good clothes when I go to town, because they're too dog gone good.'

"'Why don't you paint your face an' throw your hatchet into the war post?' I asked him.

"'No need of it, Kid,' he says. 'She went back to see her folks three weeks ago an' left me to keep bach. I started right in to use things, but there ain't a blame chair that don't break a man's back, the carpet's full o' pepper to keep out the moths, so when I bedded down there I sneezed my head off. I broke open the book case, but all there is in them books is useful information, which I never did prize. I put on my good clo'es, too, but I hatter take 'em off the second day an' put on somethin' easy.'

"'What are you going to do about it, Bill?' I asked him.

"'I'm goin' to suffer like blazes an' smile as if I liked it,' he says. 'That's the penalty of pomp an' panoply from Gee String to Beantown.'"

"That's all right," said Perry Jordan. "All the same, there's comin' a time when I'll change my shirt twice a week. You watch me."

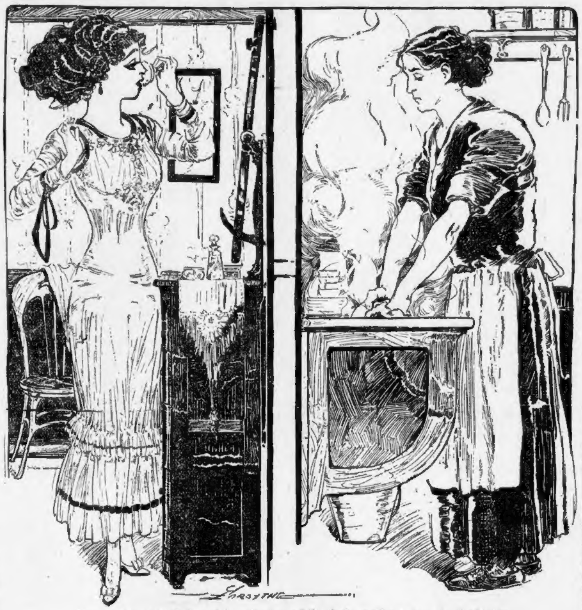
Does This Picture Accuse Any of You, Girls?

"Don't Wait Until After Death to Appreciate Your Mother. Do It Now!"



Many girls spend hours in primping while their mothers slave in the kitchen

By BEATRICE FAIRFAX

THE story told by these two pictures is not a rare one. It is, unfortunately, altogether too common.

Little girl, do you ever think, while you titivate yourself in finery and allow your mother to slave in the kitchen, what a grave injustice you are doing yourself, as well as her? It is she who ought to be resting while you do the work. She is old and frail and tired, and you are young and strong.

Her wrinkles and bent shoulders and work-roughened hands have all come through willing service for you and the rest of the family. In every way since you were a tiny baby she has sacrificed herself for you.

She has worn shabby clothes in order that you might wear pretty ones, and, mind you, in her woman's heart she probably loves pretty things just as much as you do.

She is willing to work because she wants you to look pretty and go out and have a good time, free from worry and responsibility. She wants your hands to look white, and dish-washing might redden them.

You are the one to take things in your own hands and insist that she should take a well-earned rest. Let her sit in the parlor while you wash the dishes. I wager that at this moment you have far more pretty things in your top drawer than she had in the last ten years.

How often do you wear a hat two seasons and how often does she get a new one in less than four seasons?

The entire household grows accustomed to the mother doing all the drudgery; they take it for granted that she would rather work than play.

Family Realizes When Too Late

Apart from that, she must always be ready to sympathize and advise and comfort. Hands and heart must be constantly at the service of the family.

And then some day the patient, loving spirit slips quietly away and the dear toil-worn hands are at rest at last. The smile on the still lips means peace and rest, for she has been tired, so tired, for such a long time.

Then the family awakens to the knowledge of what that marvellous love and tenderness has meant to them. Now, when it is too late they would crawl on hands and knees to save her one pang.

But don't wait until after death to appreciate your mother. Do it now. A grain of service while she lives is worth an ocean of tears after she has gone.

I would say to all young men about to marry, find out how the girl treats her mother. If she is a good daughter she will make a good wife. Call on her in the morning and find out if she reads a novel while her mother cooks the dinner. Also note whether she is as neat in appearance in the morning as she is when you call upon her in the evening.

A great many girls get into the habit of looking upon their mother as old-fashioned in ideas.

There is just one thing of which all girls may be sure, and that is that their mothers' ideas are always the best ideas to follow.

I hope that none of my girls are allowing their mothers to slave while they play.

You may be too young to do all the work, but you can help, and just notice how your mother's face will brighten when you tell her that after this she is going to be the one who is petted and taken care of.

Life and Death

By CHRISTOPHER CROUCH

IF death be final, what is life, with all
Its lavish promises, its thwarted aims,
Its lost ideals, its dishonored claims,
Its uncompleted growth? A prison wall,
Whose heartless stones but echo back our call;
An epitaph recording but our names;
A puppet-stage where joys and griefs and shame
Furnish a demon jester's carnival;
A plan without a purpose or a form;
A roofless temple; an unfinished tale
And men like madrepores through calm and strom
Toil, die to build a branch of fossil frail,
And add from all their dreams, thoughts, acts, belief
A few more inches to a coral reef.

MATRIMONIAL INDIGESTION.

Giles—Pecken had a bad case of matrimonial dyspepsia.

Miles—How's that?

Giles—His wife doesn't agree with him.

GAS BLEW OUT.

Cook—The gas stove has gone out, ma'am.

Lady—Well, get a match and light it.

Cook—But it has gone out through the roof!—Judge.

Smiles.

"BRIDGEY," said Mrs. Hiram Offer sternly, "on my way home just now I saw that policeman who was in the kitchen with you so long last evening, and I took occasion to speak to him——"

"Oh, sure, that's all roight, ma'am. Oi'm not jealous."

His Worship—What we want you to tell us is the exact words used by the prisoner when he spoke to you.

Witness—He said, Your Worship, that he stole the pig.

His Worship—No, no; he would not have used the third person.

Witness—But, Your Worship, there was no third person.

His Worship—Then he must have said, "I stole the pig."

Witness—Begorra, an' maybe you did, Your Worship, but he did not split on you!

In the days of the Indian Mutiny it was the barbarous custom of many of the rebel chiefs to throw all Europeans who were unfortunate enough to fall into their hands into pits containing tigers, which, of course, fell upon them and devoured them.

A mother was showing her little son a picture of one of these terrible scenes and was talking very solemnly to him.

"Ma," said he, all at once, "Oh, ma, just look at that poor little tiger right behind there! He won't get any!"

Within a Dream

By ERNEST DAWSON

THEY are not long, the weeping and the laughter,
Love and desire and hate;
I think they have no portion in us after
We pass the gate.

THEY are not long, the days of wine and roses;
Out of a misty dream
Our path emerges for a while, then closes
Within a dream.

The Journal of a Neglected Wife

By MABEL HERBERT URNER

Copyright, 1909, by B. W. Dodge & Co.

September 30th.

LAST night I walked the streets until after midnight.

I had reached the stage where I could be alone not one moment longer. I left the house as though I was fleeing from something.

I do not know where I went—blindly I walked on and on, with an endurance I had never known before. I had no thought of danger, or of the strangeness of the thing I was doing. I only felt impelled to go on—on! Just the streets, the passing people, seemed to help me.

Sometimes I found myself in a neighborhood of small shops with cheerful lighted windows; again I would pass through blocks of grave, silent houses, dark but for an occasional light in an upper room; then again by some small square, with dim lights shining through the dark trees, lighting up some bench on which huddled a sleeping tramp.

On and on I walked, until both mind and body seemed numbed into a sort of unfeeling weariness. Suddenly, high up in the darkness, before me shone an illuminated clock-tower—it was midnight!

I took the first car line I came to—an old, jangling horse car—and found I was far on the East Side and that I must change twice before I could get back home.

How strange and unfamiliar our house seemed when at last I stood before it! I had a sense of having been away for a great length of time.

When I unlocked the door and entered the dim hall, Horace's hat and coat was there. In a dazed way I stared at them; that he might come home first had not occurred to me.

And then slowly came the thought—he knew I was not at home—I, who had never before been outside of the house alone at night—and he had not cared! He was not even worried—he had gone calmly to bed!

I think my first impulse was to go out again into the night—to wander on and on, never to come back—in some way to go out of his life forever. But the physical weariness that claimed me was too strong. I was faint and dizzy—I could go no farther now. Perhaps to-morrow—— To-morrow I would go away——

Through blinding tears I groped for the banisters and dragged myself up the stairs. Half way up I stumbled and fell. I made no effort to rise.

A wave of such weakness, such hopelessness, such utter misery, swept over me that I wanted to lie there—just to lie there, never to move again.

After a while I was conscious of a dusty odor from the thick carpet beneath my cheek, and found myself thinking dully that Ellen must sweep the stairs better, and then I could have laughed aloud at the irony of the thought.

Suddenly a door opened from above and a flood of light came out. I knew it was Horace, but I did not move—I did not seem to care. Whether he saw me or not made no difference to me then.

"Mary! Mary!" He was beside me, trying to raise me up. "What has happened—why are you here?"

I did not answer. It was not resentment or bitterness that kept me silent; it was only a great indifference. I think my ability to suffer or feel anything more just then was deadened. I was curiously calm and quiet.

"I thought you were in bed. What does this mean?" He had half carried me into my room. "What is it, Mary—are you ill?"

Are you ill? That is what he always says; never—are you unhappy, are you lonely, heartsick, miserable; but always—are you ill?

"Mary, you must answer me—are you ill?"

"No; I am only drunk!"

What made me say that I shall never know. I did not even know I was saying it until I heard the words. I suppose it was a form of hysteria, and yet at that moment I felt so curiously quiet.

I did not look up at Horace. I do not know what horror or incredulity his face expressed, but his hands trembled as he held mine. With a strange, impersonal interest I wondered what he would say. It seemed a long while before he spoke.

"Mary, of course I know what you said is not true. I don't know why you said it, or what this all means. But I believe you are ill, and you must let me send for Mr. Martin."

"I am not ill," I answered very quietly, "and I shall not see Dr. Martin. But I am very tired; if you will leave me now, I should like to go to bed."

Again Horace came in and stood beside the bed. "Mary, I want you to promise that if you are wakeful or nervous during the night, you will call me. I will leave the door open."

"Very well," I murmured.

Still he hesitated. "I want you to promise, Mary. I want to be sure that if you need me you will call."

"I promise," I answered wearily. And I remembered nothing more. I must have fallen asleep while he stood there.

Boston TO-DAY—A Real Problem for the People

The estimable men of this town engaged in the laudable attempt to advertise "Boston, 1915, the Best City in the World," are making great progress. We wish them success. We admire the enthusiasm of the men in the 1915 movement and we wish to help them. They will be able to do a great deal of good. We HOPE for it.

One of our newspapers, one of our older, CONSERVATIVE newspapers—you know what THAT means—is getting up a World's Fair for Boston in 1920, to commemorate the landing of the Pilgrims 300 years ago some miles to the south of us. We are just a little doubtful of World's Fairs, after the experience of Chicago and St. Louis and Jamestown; we are just a little bit afraid that Uncle Samuel may not feel like financing another, but we wish our contemporary success, also. IN SHORT, WE WISH EVERYBODY SUCCESS WHO WISHES SUCCESS TO BOSTON.

At the same time, if our friends will permit us, we are a TRIFLE CONCERNED ABOUT BOSTON, TO-DAY.

We wonder if the citizens of Boston, generally, are giving heed to the fact that Henry Cabot Lodge, of Nahant in Essex County, and Winthrop Murray Crane, of Dalton in Berkshire County, with the assistance of Eben Sumner Draper, of Hopedale, in Worcester County, are rigging up a little plan by means of which the principle of Direct Nominations in this town may be given a body blow?

We wonder if you have given any THOUGHT to the likely effect of that Lodge-Crane-Draper plan, on Direct Nominations throughout the country; in the neighboring State of New York, for instance?

Next to the tariff robbery, which Aldrich and his men seek to perpetuate at Washington, the thing that ought to interest the great mass of people in Boston and Massachusetts to-day is the war that Mr. Lodge and HIS MEN have opened at the State House on Direct Nominations in Massachusetts.

Let us, for the moment, drop all this futile discussion as to whether the biggest graft has been made in $200 driblets at City Hall, or picked from street jobberies in the Back Bay, and CONSIDER A MATTER THAT STRIKES AT THE VERY ROOT OF THE BODY POLITIC.

Mr. Lodge, when he gets ready, will drive his charter bill through the Committee on Metropolitan Affairs at the State House, through the Legislature and through the Governor's office.

When it comes to YOU, MR. VOTER, you will have JUST ONE CHANCE to mark it with a cross.

You will NOT have a chance to say whether or not you desire any change in the Boston charter. You OUGHT to have that chance, but you won't have.

You will merely be allowed to say whether you like "Plan No. 1" or "Plan No. 2."

"Plan No. 1" is Mr. Curtis's. REALLY, IT IS MR. LODGE'S. Mr. Curtis is the Assistant United States Treasurer at Boston, a federal appointee. Federal appointments are made through the United States Senators.

"Plan No. 2" is the plan of the Boston Finance Commission.

WHICHEVER YOU ADOPT, YOU HAVE SAID GOOD-BY, FOREVER, TO THE DIRECT NOMINATION OF YOUR MAYOR AND YOUR OTHER "REPRESENTATIVES" AT CITY HALL.

Whether you take Plan No. 1 or Plan No. 2, you will have gone back to the OLD-TIME POLITICAL CONVENTION, when a coterie of men picked the Democratic candidate for Mayor and another coterie of men picked the Republican candidate for Mayor and it was always possible FOR THE INTERESTS, OR ONE INTEREST, TO RULE BOTH COTERIES. That's how they grew fat and powerful.

What do you think of it?

Is any good that Mr. Lodge's charter amendments MAY bring to Boston worth THE PRICE THAT MR. LODGE DEMANDS OF US?

We have noticed, with a great deal of pleasure, that the present Massachusetts House of Representatives, left to itself, is a DIRECT NOMINATIONS HOUSE.

MR. LODGE HAS EVIDENTLY NOTICED THE SAME PHENOMENON.

We have also noticed, that Governor Draper, who was picked for his high place by Mr. Lodge and who is MR. LODGE'S GOVERNOR, has served notice on the Direct Nominations Legislature that if it should pass the McIntire bill he will veto it.

Governor Draper served that notice, thereby pleasing Senator Lodge and all the other bosses, big and little, by neither signing nor vetoing a teeny, little, harmless bill providing only for the direct nomination of the Senator in the First Essex District.

"I shall not sign this bill," the Governor's silence said, eloquently, "because I do not believe in this foolish notion of Direct Nominations. I can hardly veto it, because it is the one Direct Nominations measure that our machine-made Committee on Election Laws has approved this year to the Legislature."

"Look at ME," says Draper, in effect. "I wasn't picked by Direct Nomination!"

"No," he might have said, "and I COULDN'T have been!"

And so the First Essex Senatorial District Direct Nominations bill, trimmed down from its original form until it applied only to the Senate nomination, and not to the Representatives in the district, became a law automatically.

The purpose, no doubt, was to duly impress the progressive Republicans in the House, in order that next Tuesday, when the McIntire bill comes up for a third and final reading, the general Direct Nominations bill, applying to the State at large and to all Senators and all Representatives and ALL MEMBERS OF POLITICAL STATE COMMITTEES, MAY BE KILLED in its tracks.

We want you to watch the House of Representatives next Tuesday, and especially to WATCH THE ROLL-CALL. Watch the State machine agents. See them in the lobby. See what they do. See whom they talk with, labor with, argue with, bluff, cajole or threaten.

We don't blame Mr. Lodge for objecting to the direct nomination of members of political State committees. It must be a whole lot pleasanter to be the man who PICKS a State Committee than it would be to be the leader SELECTED by a State Committee. Mr. Lodge knows which side HIS bread is buttered on, and the people are careless, indifferent, uninterested.

We want to wake them up; make them think.

Next to the tariff, we know of no question that ought to be more pressing at this time, in Massachusetts, than this of the life or death of Direct Nominations.

What kind of a charter we ask our public servants to be good under is of small moment beside this scheme of Mr. Lodge's to take away the RIGHT OF THE PEOPLE of this community to SELECT THEIR CANDIDATES for themselves.

THERE'S A REASON

Pleasures of the Chase

By James J. Montague

KICK it through the muddy
Street,
Cuff it here and there,
Trample it 'neath rushing feet—
It's just a Teddy Bear.

LITTLE Georgie Wickersham
Stops a while to gloat,
While it's lammed and walloped by Little Joey Choate.

JUDGES wipe their feet on it,
Brokers tweak its ears;
Railroad magnates pass it by
With sardonic sneers.

SENATORS tear off its hide,
Representatives
Speak bewildered wonderment
That the thing still lives.

ARCHBOLD grins to see it lie
On the garbage pile;
John D. casts his eye on it
With a placid smile.

FORAKER takes up his pen,
Once again to write:
"I'm afraid the wretched beast
Will get off too light."

EVER see a crowd of boys
Lately terrified
By a watch-dog gather round
When the dog was tied?

POKE it with sharp ends of sticks,
Yell, and howl, and screech,
All of them quite well assured
They were out of reach?

TEASE the ragged little brute,
Punch it, pull its hair;
Let each trust join in pursuit—
It's just a Teddy Bear.

The Modern Prodigal Son

By Winifred Black

DEAR WINIFRED BLACK:

Do you believe in this Prodigal Son business in real life? I don't. I'm a Prodigal Son myself, and I know.

A few years ago I was unhappy in my home life, and I got to drinking and made the usual fool of myself. Something happened which brought me to my senses. I haven't touched a thing to drink for three years—but nobody comes running to meet with any robe or any ring, and I am not invited to dine on fatted calves or anything else.

Every time I try to get a situation my application comes back marked, "References unsatisfactory." Now, what am I going to do? Go on paying that bad debt as long as I live?

Yours in desperation,

PRODIGAL SON.

Well, Mr. Prodigal, I don't know about this reform business, either. I never cared particularly about that old Prodigal Son story myself.

It always seemed to me a little hard on the decent, hard-working boy of the family to have such a fuss made over the "hard case"—even if the "hard case" had "reformed."

But that was when I was young and inexperienced—so young and inexperienced that I didn't realize that the great laws of nature went right on working and made that Prodigal Son pay his price for his prodigality, just as if his father hadn't forgiven him at all.

I'll warrant the Prodigal Son had troubles of his own—troubles brought on by his own prodigality—even if his father did forgive him. Other people probably did not.

All the forgiving father in the world won't cure the "morning after" headache or build up the constitution shattered by folly.

Poor, old, soft-hearted, forgiving father. He would have liked to wipe out the score against his son and make nature itself forget that the boy of his heart had ever done wrong—but nature has an unpleasant memory—and you can't wheedle her out of it.

You'll have to pay your bad debt, poor boy, and keep on paying it—till there's a paid mark stamped across the face of it.

Why not? Who are you, that you should escape the punishment of your own folly?

What are you to do about it?

Just this: The next time you make an application for a position tell the truth, just as you have told it in this letter, and some day you'll find an employer who will give you a chance. In the meantime, the steady, plodding fellow you used to laugh at will have a chance ahead of you.

Why shouldn't he? He has given up a whole lot of what you used to call fun to get that chance.
